Middlebrow Matters Diana Holmes, 2018 This is the first book to study the middlebrow novel in France It asks what middlebrow means and applies the term positively to explore the poetics of the types of novel that have attracted ordinary fiction readers in their majority female since the end of the 19th century Historical Dictionary of French Literature John Flower, 2022-05-15 With the possible exception of Great Britain France can justifiably lay claim to possess the richest literary history of any country in Western Europe This book covers the authors and their works literary movements and philosophical and social developments that have had a direct impact on style or content and major historical events such as the two world wars the Franco Prussian War the Algerian War or the events of May 1968 that are directly reflected in a substantial body of imaginative writing Historical Dictionary of French Literature Second Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 500 cross referenced entries on individual writers and key texts significant movements groups associations and periodicals and on the literary reactions to major national and international events such as revolutions and wars This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about French literature Becoming of the Body Amaleena Damle, 2014-04-09 No detailed description available for

The Becoming of the Body Narratives of fear and safety Kaisa Kaukiainen, Kaisa Kurikka, Hanna Mäkelä, Elise Nykänen, Sanna Nyqvist, Juha Raipola, Anne Riippa, Hanna Samola, 2020-09-01 The essays in this edited volume written in English and French tackle the intriguing problems of fear and safety by analysing their various meanings and manifestations in literature and other narrative media The articles bring forth new cross cultural interpretations on fear and safety through examining what kinds of genre specific means of world making narratives use to express these two affectivities The articles also show how important it is to study these themes in order to understand challenges in times of global threats such as the climate crisis The main themes of the book are approached from various theoretical perspectives as related to their literary and cultural representations Recent trends in research such as affect and risk theory serve as the basis for the discussion The articles in the volume also draw from disciplines such as gender studies and trauma studies to examine the threats posed by collective fears and aggression on individuals' lives and propose ways of coping with fear These themes are addressed also in articles analysing new adaptations of old myths that retell stories of the past Many of the articles in the volume discuss apocalyptic and dystopian narratives that currently permeate the entire cultural landscape Dystopian narratives do not only deal with future threats such as totalitarianism technocracy or environmental disasters but also suggest alternative ways of being and new hopes in the form of political resistance Rewriting Wrongs Angela Kimyongür, Amy

Wigelsworth, 2014-10-02 Rewriting Wrongs French Crime Fiction and the Palimpsest furthers scholarly research into French crime fiction and within that broad context examines the nature functions and specificity of the palimpsest Originally a palaeographic phenomenon the palimpsest has evolved into a figurative notion used to define any cultural artefact which has been reused but still bears traces of its earlier form In her 2007 study The Palimpsest Sarah Dillon refers to the persistent fascination with palimpsests in the popular imagination embodying as they do the mystery of the secret the miracle of resurrection and the thrill of detective discovery In the context of crime fiction the palimpsest is a particularly fertile metaphor Because the practice of rewriting is so central to popular fiction as a whole crime fiction is replete with hypertextual transformations The palimpsest also has tremendous extra diegetic resonance in that crime fiction frequently involves the rewriting of criminal or historical events and scandals This collection of essays therefore exemplifies and interrogates the various manifestations and implications of the palimpsest in French crime fiction Contemporary French

The Character of Rain Amélie Nothomb, 2007-04-01 The Japanese believe that until the age of three children whether Japanese or not are gods each one an okosama or lord child On their third birthday they fall from grace and join the rest of the human race In Amélie Nothomb's new novel The Character of Rain we learn that divinity is a difficult thing from which to recover particularly if like the child in this story you have spent the first two and a half years of life in a nearly vegetative state I remember everything that happened to me after the age of two and one half the narrator tells us She means this literally Once jolted out of her plant like tube like trance to the ecstatic relief of her concerned parents the child bursts into existence absorbing everything that Japan where her father works as a diplomat has to offer Life is an unfolding pageant of delight and danger a ceaseless exploration of pleasure and the limits of power Most wondrous of all is the discovery of water oceans seas pools puddles streams ponds and perhaps most of all rain one meaning of the Japanese character for her name Hers is an amphibious life The Character of Rain evokes the hilarity terror and sanctity of childhood

As she did in the award winning international bestseller Fear and Trembling Nothomb grounds the novel in the outlines of her experiences in Japan but the self portrait that emerges from these pages is hauntingly universal Amelie Nothomb's novels are unforgettable immersion experiences leaving you both holding your breath with admiration your lungs aching and longing for more
