Media and Nation Building John Postill, 2006 With the end of the Cold War and the proliferation of civil wars and regime changes the question of nation building has acquired great practical and theoretical urgency From Eastern Europe to East Timor Afghanistan and recently Iraq the United States and its allies have often been accused of shirking their nation building responsibilities as their attention and that of the media turned to yet another regional crisis While much has been written about the growing influence of television and the Internet on modern warfare little is known about the relationship between media and nation building This book explores for the first time this relationship by means of a paradigmatic case of successful nation building Malaysia Based on extended fieldwork and historical research the author follows the diffusion adoption and social uses of media among the Iban of Sarawak in Malaysian Borneo and demonstrates the wide ranging process of nation building that has accompanied the Iban adoption of radio clocks print media and television In less than four decades Iban longhouses villages under one roof have become media organizations shaped by the official ideology of Malaysia a country hastily formed in 1963 by conjoining four disparate territories

Managing Modernity in the Western Pacific Martha Macintyre, 2014-06-01 Fast money schemes in Papua New Guinea collectivities in rural Solomon Islands gambling in the Cook Islands and the Vanuatu tax haven all feature in the interface between Pacific and global economies Since the 1970s Melanesian countries and their peoples have been beguiled by the prospect of economic development that would enable them to participate in a world market economic system Access to global markets would provide the means to improve their standard of living allowing them to take their places as independent nations in a modern world Managing Modernity in the Western Pacific takes a broad sweep through contemporary topics in Melanesian anthropology and ethnography With nuanced and rigorous scholarship it views contemporary debate on modernity in Melanesia within the context of the global economy and cultural capitalism In particular contributors assess local ideas about wealth success speculation and development and their connections to participation in institutions and activities generated by them This innovative and accessible collection offers a new intersection between Western Pacific anthropology and global studies

Nationalism and National Projects in Southern Africa Ndlovu-Gatsheni, Sabelo J., Ndhlovu, Finex, 2013 Despite the fact that nationalism and its national projects have in recent years been severely criticised by postcolonial theorists for being fundamentalist and essentialist by feminists for being patriarchal and exclusive by global financial institutions for being antagonistic to development and globalisation by Pan Africanists for being anticontinental unity and by those Africans born after decolonisation for being irrelevant Sabelo J Ndlovu Gatsheni and Finex Ndhlovu's book convincingly argues that nationalism has defied its death and displayed remarkable resilience and resonance Since the end of the Cold War what has been poignant has been the enduring contest tensions and contradictions between the growth of various forms of transnationalism on the one hand and a resurgence of territorial as well as other narrow and xenophobic forms of nationalism on the other In this important book Ndlovu Gatsheni and Ndhlovu provide new critical reflections on nationalism and its national projects in southern Africa covering South Africa Zimbabwe and the Democratic Republic of Congo DRC a member of SADC The national question is interrogated from different disciplinary vantage points to reveal how it impinges on contemporary challenges of nation building development devolution of power language questions and citizenship on the one hand and ethnicity nativism and xenophobia on the other song lyrics advertisements and other materials This volume will appeal to readers interested in the links among nationalism consumption and media in Melanesia and elsewhere      Popular Media, Democracy and Development in Africa Herman Wasserman,2010-10-04 This book examines the role that popular media could play to encourage political debate provide information for development or critique the very definitions of democracy and development      Borneo Studies in History, Society and Culture Victor T. King,Zawawi Ibrahim,Noor Hasharina Hassan,2016-08-12 This edited book is the first major review of what has been achieved in Borneo Studies to date Chapters in this book situate research on Borneo within the general disciplinary fields of the social sciences with the weight of attention devoted to anthropological research and related fields such as development studies gender studies environmental studies social policy studies and cultural studies Some of the chapters in this book are extended versions of presentations at the Borneo Research Council s international conference hosted by Universiti Brunei Darussalam in June 2012 and a Borneo Studies workshop organised in Brunei in 2012 The volume examines some of the major debates and controversies in Borneo Studies including those which have served to connect post war research on Borneo to wider scholarship It also assesses some of the more recent contributions and interests of locally based researchers in universities and other institutions in Borneo itself The major strength of the book is the inclusion of a substantial amount of research undertaken by scholars working and teaching within the Southeast Asian region In particular there is an examination of research materials published in the vernacular notably the outpouring of work published in Indonesian by the Institut Dayakologi in Pontianak In doing so the book also addresses the urgent matters which have not received the attention they deserve specifically subjects themes and issues that have already been covered but require further contemplation elaboration and research and the scope for disciplinary and multidisciplinary collaboration in Borneo Studies The book is a valuable resource and reference work for students and researchers interested in social science scholarship on Borneo and for those with wider interests in Indonesia and Malaysia and in the Southeast Asian region

Cultural Critique and the Global Corporation Purnima Bose,Laura E. Lyons,2010-03-30 This book examines the stories that corporations tell about themselves and explores the powerful influence of corporations in the transformation of cultural and social life Six case studies draw on CEO memoirs annual reports management manuals advertising campaigns and other sources to analyze the self representations and rhetorical maneuvers that corporations use to obscure the full extent of their power Images of corporate character and responsibility are intertwined with the changes in local economy politics and culture wrought by globalization and neoliberalism The contributors to this volume describe the effects of specific corporate practices on individuals and communities and how activists and academics are responding to labor and environmental abuses      The Sambia: Ritual, Sexuality, and Change in Papua New Guinea Gilbert Herdt,2006 This cultural and psychological study of gender identity and sexual development in a New Guinea Highlands society includes rich material on initiation rites and socialization studies and contrasts the Sambia with other societies including the United States

For example Sambia boys experience ritualized homosexuality before puberty and continue this practice until marriage after which homosexual activity is prohibited The implications are developed cross culturally and contextualized in gender literature This new edition contains updated information about the Sambia ritualization and socialization of gender practices and will include a new chapter on sexuality gender and social change among the Sambia Important Notice Media content referenced within the product description or the product text may not be available in the ebook version Power, Politics and Identity in South African Media Adrian Hadland, 2008 South Africa offers a rich context for the study of the interrelationship between the media and identity The essays collected in this book explore the many diverse elements of this interconnection and give fresh focus to topics that scholarship has tended to overlook such as the pervasive impact of tabloid newspapers Interrogating contemporary theory the authors shed new light on how identities are constructed through the media and provide case studies that illustrate the complex process of identity renegotiation taking place currently in post apartheid South Africa The contributors include established scholars as well as many new voices Collectively they represent some of South Africa's finest media analysts pooling skills to grapple with one of the country's most vexing issues who are we

Consumption and Social Change in a Post-Soviet Middle Class Jennifer Patino, 2008 What happens when your once dignified profession no longer supports a dignified lifestyle In 1990s St Petersburg teachers had to find out the hard way Although the institutions and ideologies of Soviet life situated them as cultured consumers contemporary processes of marketization and privatization left them unable to attain what they now considered to be respectable material standards of living In this fascinating new ethnographic study Patino examines the various ways in which teachers have adjusted their activities and interactions as consumers demonstrating how this has led to dramatic shifts in their assessments of their own lives and of the society around them Consumption and Social Change in a Post Soviet Middle Class presents a much needed look at the lives of ordinary people in Russia today in the process contributing both to postsocialist studies of social change and to broader anthropological theorizations of consumption and value Paideuma, 2006 Journal of Vietnamese Studies, 2006 We are Playing Football Will Rollason, 2011 Sport is an important part of the lives of rural Papua New Guineans and a significant connection to global imaginaries for economically marginal villagers Such grassroots sport however is rarely studied and has never previously been the subject of an ethnographic monograph This book represents a pioneering study of the history and effects of grassroots sport in Papua New Guinea We Are Playing Football explores Panapompom people TM's attempts to recreate the international game and the social and subjective effects of this effort From a raw ethnographic starting point the book moves through historical and interpretive materials exploring the motives methods and results of Panapompom people TM's work to recreate global images of football and to turn them to their own political ends As the argument proceeds we see how playing football implicates Panapompom people in circuits of domination power and humiliation that tether them to colonial modes of control and derogatory racialist identities which they themselves reproduce in their communities From its effects on the most intimate self understanding through the embodied experience of playing football to the details of colonial history and the values and ideas underpinning community life this book offers an original and challenging assessment of what it means to be oeglobalised It charts the new outlooks and imaginaries the disruptions failures and disappointments and above all the vital synergies between different people that define the global situation of Panapompom people American Book Publishing Record ,2003

Representations on the Margins of Europe Tsypylma Darieva, Wolfgang Kaschuba,2007 Since the first Baltic nations joined the European Union debates about reorganizing post Soviet republics have grown increasingly heated How do citizens in the Baltic and South Caucasian states cope with EU expansion and the feeling of existing simultaneously inside and outside Europe Based on ethnographies and archival work Representations on the Margins of Europe offers new insights into shifts in the national identity cultural geography and symbolic boundaries This exploration of local responses to Europe s new hegemony will appeal to anyone interested in anthropology history and politics

Naturalizing the State Elizabeth Ann Peacock,2003

Embodying Modernity and Postmodernity Sandra C. Bamford,2007 This collection of original essays critically examines the relationship between ritual embodiment and social change in the South Pacific Over the past few decades the societies of Melanesia have undergone profound and revolutionary social change Encounters with colonialism postcolonialism and the forces of globalization have put indigenous peoples in touch with processes of state formation late capitalist culture and the emergence of a complex network of transnational identities In addition to shaping the contours of the nation state these developments are having a profound impact on the nature of embodied experience In recent years many Melanesian societies have witnessed the rise of charismatic Christianity changing gender configurations and the growing use of consumerism as a means of defining new social and political hierarchies Embodying Modernity and Post Modernity provides detailed analyses of those social changes that are becoming part of contemporary Melanesia Written by experts with first hand fieldwork experience this volume furnishes novel insights concerning the social implications of modernity and postmodernity More specifically it addresses two interrelated themes how the rise of new social and economic forms has influenced the ways in which Melanesians think about experience and act upon their bodies and the ways in which these new forms of bodily experience contribute to the emergence of new social and cultural identities This book is part of the Ritual Studies Monograph Series edited by Pamela J Stewart and Andrew Strathern Department of Anthropology University of Pittsburgh While this volume will be of particular interest for regional specialists and theorists of the body it also makes important contributions to historical analysis of colonial and post colonial interpretations of modernity and ritual studies The editor also deserves credit for bringing together a cohesive text one in which the articles usefully speak to and complement one another

Anthropological Forum This book is a must read for scholars of Melanesia and all scholars of the Anthropology of the Body There is much to be gleaned theoretically from these ethnographically rich essays Oceania

Foreign Flowers Peter

Larmour, 2005-05-31 Wide ranging and cross disciplinary in its approach Foreign Flowers focuses on the process of policy transfer in the Pacific and the use of power to achieve it Many governing institutions in the region have been borrowed transplanted or imposed by colonial rule or military intervention from outside The book attempts to answer several key questions Where do the governing institutions originate and why are so many of them based on Western models Why have some transfers succeeded while others have not What are the effects of transfers What has been the fate of a particular institution the state How does culture affect the transfer of and resistance to institutions Early chapters identify institutional transfer as a persistent theme in the study of the Pacific reflected in ideas like cargo cults homegrown constitutions invented traditions and weak states The author analyzes about forty cases of institutional transfer beginning with Tonga's borrowing of foreign institutions in the nineteenth century and ending with current attempts to induce island states to regulate their offshore financial centers He goes on to distinguish factors that determine whether transfer took place including timing social conditions and sympathy with local values He looks at the kinds of power and coercion being deployed in transfer and at how transfers have been evaluated by their sponsors domestic reformers aid donors international financial institutions and their consultants and academic advisers
