Race in the Schools Judith R. Blau,2003 Judith Blau s disturbing study presents strong evidence that our schools assumed by many to be an equalizing force in U S society are in fact racialized settings that reproduce white advantage to the detriment of all students Drawing on rich longitudinal databases Blau explores the values activities and educational experiences of a sample of young people born a decade or so after the 1964 Civil Rights Act was signed into law She focuses on topics that are both important in students lives and central in schooling attitudes toward integrity and cheating getting into trouble interracial relations learning and going to college Her remarkable findings challenge many assumptions long held by researchers and policymakers Race in the Schools combining an accessible style sophisticated methodology and clear policy relevance is a seminal study of the pervasive consequences of race in the U S education system    Young Children ,1995    Math Advantage, Grade 1 School-home Connection ,1999    Partnerships Connecting School and Community

Anne Chambers Lewis,1986 Schools and businesses often form mutually beneficial partnerships to improve the quality of education Businesses sponsor most projects by donating equipment special awards and corporate staff time for guest lectures The concern for the productivity of their future work force inspires the interest of businesses in partnerships On the national level schools are helped by funds from major corporations by the expertise of chief executive officers by the commitment of corporate leaders to cooperate with schools and by civic leaders and nonprofit organizations On the state level schools obtain financial support for education reforms through reform task forces led by business leaders Finally on the local level schools neighbors and local businesses develop partnerships to link local resources with the needs of the school and community Other partnerships involve individual volunteers foundations and higher education A strategy for developing alliances includes declaring commitment finding outside partners engendering staff interest announcing the partnership establishing actual programs assigning responsibilities recruiting orienting and showing appreciation of volunteers publicizing the program and evaluating the program Among the 21 exhibits included are sample letters forms and charts RG
