Muhammad At Mecca:

Muhammad at Mecca William Montgomery Watt, 1972 Muhammad at Medina William Montgomery Watt, 1956

Muhammad at Medina was written by W Montgomery Watt as a sequel to his Muhammad at Mecca and the two works together constitute a comprehensive history of the Life of Muhammad and the origins of the Islamic Community The author has examined a vast mass of scholarly discussion and in this pioneering work he has attempted to answer many questions that have hardly been raised in the past He has endeavored to write so as to be easily understood by the historian who has no knowledge of Arabic Muhammad Hans Jansen, 2012-02 Available for the first time in English Jansen examines the original Arabic accounts of Muhammads life to uncover both the historical facts about the life of the Prophet and the intent of the authors of the earliest Muslim chroniclers Muhammad of Mecca Elsa Marston, 2001 Chronicles the life of the prophet Muhammed from his birth in Mecca through his preaching and the establishment of Islam to his continuing legacy to the world Muhammad's Mecca William Montgomery Watt, 1988 Muhammad, Mecca and the Qur'an H. Thomas Becket, 2017-03-24 The traditional understanding of the origins of Islam teach that about 1400 years ago a poor caravan trader began receiving revelations that ultimately led to the creation of the Qur'an and the religion of Islam in the full light of history as famously asserted by 19th century philologist Ernest Renan Thomas Becket explores the historical record in search of the original Qur'anic community that first heard Muhammad's recitations and carefully preserved his words in memory to be lovingly memorialized in writing shortly after their prophet's death in 632 In doing so he asks some fundamental questions about the origin of Islam that seem ignored by the scholars Why would anyone write the scriptures for a new religion in the Arabic of the 7th century Why would a believing community create no exegetical literature for 200 years following the delivery of the literal word of Allah to that community Why would that community fail to develop an adequate alphabet capable of rendering a stable Qur'anic text for 200 years after its revelation Why would the Islamic conquerors create no written record of their conquests until the 9th century Why would Christian sources throughout the conquered territories uniformly fail to mention Muslim conquerors Muhammad the Qur'an or Islam during the 200 year period Why would the original founder of Mecca have created a city that required the importation of all food water and forage over long distances from the very first day Why did a city of Mecca's importance not leave historical tracks outside of the partisan Muslim literary material In pursuing answers to these and other basic questions Becket delves deeply into the scholarly literature in search of historical or archaeological evidence to support the traditional understanding of Muhammad the original Qur'anic community and the origins of the Qur'an Instead he finds that Western scholars admit that no such evidence exists and that they must rely on the Islamic traditions written almost 200 years after the purported events they claim to describe While the readily available Islamic traditions present extremely detailed transcripts of conversations and descriptions of the actions of Muhammed and his early followers their historicity seems greatly in doubt The author also finds that the available historical and archaeological evidence generally contradicts the traditional understanding of the Islamic traditions. For example, surviving evidence clearly supports the presence of Christianity throughout the Arabian Peninsula from the 4th century, while the Islamic traditions describe this as being a time of ignorance and polytheism until the coming of Muhammad in the 7th century. Despite these recognized shortcomings of the Islamic traditions, most Western historians accept their historicity on a limited basis and assume that they preserve the memories of the original Qur'anic community of Muhammad and his followers in Mecca and Medina. The Qur'an itself also provides important insights into the nature of the audience needed to understand and accept it and the historical circumstances of its writing. Thus, in his search for the original Qur'anic community, Beckett compares the characteristics of an audience needed to understand the Qur'an as described by Western scholars to that of Muhammad and his early followers as described in the Islamic traditions. To the extent that the Islamic traditions reflect historical events of the origin of the Qur'an, the two Qur'anic communities should share the same characteristics. Beckett's search for the original Qur'anic community provides important insights into the historicity of the Islamic traditions that provide the foundation for Western scholars' history of the origin of Islam and a fresh perspective on the historical events of the period of the origin of the Qur'an and Islam.

The Unveiling Origin of Mecca Mohammed Alal Khan, 2021-09-12 The Unveiling Origin of Mecca provides insights into the history of Kaaba Ka'ba in Mecca. The Ka'ba is the first house built on earth. It is one of the few and perhaps the only Islamic History books that looks at modern archaeological evidence and the Holy Quran and the history of the Quran to explore the proper location of the Ka'ba. The author notes that in the Holy Quran, Mecca, sometimes also called Becca, which words are synonymous and signify a place of great intercourse, is undoubtedly one of the most ancient cities in the world. Some authors imagine it to be the Mese or Mesha of the Scripture and that it deduced its name from one of Ishmael's sons. It stands in a stony and barren valley surrounded by mountains under the exact parallel with the Macoraba of Ptolemy and about 40 Arabian miles from the sea. Al-Kolzum. There is a magnificent temple in the city like the Colosseum at Rome. However, it is not made of such large stones but burnt bricks and round in the same manner. It has ninety or one hundred doors around it and is arched upon entering the temple you descend ten or twelve steps of marble and here and there about the said entrance there stand men who sell jewels and nothing else. Researching ancient Islam and the origin of Mecca, the author asserts that the Ka'ba is currently misplaced, contradicting the Holy Quran and Arabian geography. Although there are many Islamic scholars and Quran research Institutes throughout the world, sadly none of them have yet verified the exact places, mountains surrounding Ka'ba and its sacred area according to the Holy Quran.

the creation of Muslim Spain color illustrations Mecca Martin Lings, 2004 In this book eminent Islamic scholar Martin Lings discusses the significance of the pilgrimage to Mecca in the light of the tradition of Abraham Drawing upon his own experience of performing the pilgrimage first in 1946 and then again in 1978 as well referring to the traditional sources he describes how the Hajj proclaimed and established by Abraham and Ishmael about 4 000 years ago and renewed by the Prophet Muhammad some fourteen hundred years ago has continued to be performed without a break until the present day its spiritual meaning as profound and timeless as ever Mecca and Medina Charles River Charles River Editors, Jesse Harasta, 2018-01-11 Includes pictures Includes a history of the region and religion before Islam Includes footnotes and a bibliography for further reading Includes a table of contents There is no doubt in the sanctity of Mecca but a donkey won't become a Hajj pilgrim by just going through the motions Rahman Baba Whenever the Prophet returned from a journey and observed the walls of Madinah he would make his Mount go fast and if he was on an animal i e a horse he would make it gallop because of his love for Madinah Sahih Bukhari Book 30 Hadith 110 The reason for the existence of most of the world's cities is obvious to the student of geography New York and Shanghai control deep ports and straddle great rivers bringing trade from the interior Paris and London are at the crossing points of major cross country rivers Johannesburg sits atop a great mountain of gold ore and Moscow and Madrid are at the heart of their great nations easily able to control even the more distant corners of the land Mecca is quite different as the city exists solely because it is holy Even centuries before the birth of the Prophet Muhammad the leaders of Mecca established that their city was the pre eminent holy site in western Arabia and established a truce for pilgrims to the city In the process one effect of this was that Mecca became a center for might today be described as tourism as even ancient visitors needed places for food water and sleep At the same time they could make offerings in the temples and leave with mementos of their time in Mecca Many also found it convenient to bring their trade goods to the markets of Mecca where they could find visitors bringing interesting wares from across the region and the city also enjoyed the status of a trade center Of course Mecca is now best known for being Islam's holiest city revered as the birthplace of Muhammad and the site where Allah first revealed the Qur'an to him Within Mecca is the Ka'aba a building housed within the Al Masjid al Haram Great Mosque that is considered the holiest site and wherever they are in the world Muslims face in the direction of the Ka'aba while praying A pilgrimage to Mecca is considered a necessity for devout Muslims at some point in their lives and the city itself is off limits to non Muslims Indeed Mecca is so integral to Islam that the name of the city has entered the English lexicon and is a commonplace reference to any area closely associated with something such as Paris often being called the mecca of fashion Mecca has always been central to the faith but it has had a somewhat turbulent geopolitical history both because of conflicts within Islam and among neighboring nations in the Middle East As a result its history is often overlooked even as most people are quite familiar with the city Even centuries before the birth of the Prophet Muhammad Jews settled in the area that became Medina to escape persecution at the hands of the Babylonians and Romans meaning the area and its arid environment brought inhabitants precisely because it wasn't an attractive or resource rich area. In fact the city fated to become the second holiest city in Islam earned that spot simply by straddling trade routes to the religious city of Mecca which brought traders and pilgrims in large enough numbers to make it a trade center. While Mecca was Muhammad's birthplace the Prophet spent a great deal of time in Medina especially when he and his supporters found themselves in conflict with the Meccans. Using Medina as a base Muhammad eventually took Mecca and both cities became integral parts of the Caliphate that followed. This meant that even as history brought geopolitical changes Medina remained a city of religious significance for all Muslims. Mecca and Medina: The History of Islam's Holiest Cities traces the history of the second most important cities in Islam. The Blessed Cities of Islam, Mecca-Medina Omer Faruk Aksoy, 2007. Mecca and Medina are the two sanctuaries of Islam places which every Muslim dreams of visiting at least once in a lifetime. Mecca is believed to be the very first location of human settlement and it was the birthplace of the Prophet Muhammad peace be upon him. The Ka'ba found in Mecca was raised by the Prophet Abraham from its foundations to become the direction of prayer for believers. Medina is the city in which Islamic civilization was centralized and flourished religiously politically and socially. Faruk Aksoy a BBC cameraman took hundreds of photographs of these blessed cities from the most spectacular angles. This album includes over 160 select pictures shot by Aksoy since 1980s. He provides for us a picturesque pilgrimage experience and gives us an opportunity to share in the blessings of a lifetime journey as we browse through the pages accompanied by inspirational text. Features The Ka'ba and the Golden Gutter The Prophet's Mosque and the Rawda Cemeteries of Jannat al Mualla and Jannat al Baqi Mount Nur Mina Mount Arafat. The Sayings of Muhammad Sir Abdullah al-Mamun Suhrawardy, Allama Al-mamun, Muhammad, 1990. This collection of the sayings of the Prophet was highly praised in its earlier edition and it has now been carefully revised and classified. It is published in the earnest hope that it will serve in some degree to remove misconceptions as to the meaning and message of the religion of Islam particularly with regard to tolerance in Islam and the status of women. It is also hoped that it will promote still further the goodwill and understanding between the East and West. THE BOOK OF MUHAMMAD Mehru Jaffer, 2009-06-20. Born in a time of moral despondency and despair Muhammad spent his entire life trying to transcend human pettiness searching for absolute values the meaning of life and what it meant to be a human being. The Book of Muhammad recounts this journey Muhammad's early struggles to bring his message to the people in Mecca the Revelation his flight to Medina and the establishment of Islam and an ideal city state there and his triumphant return to Mecca.
