Systems Optimization Methodology V. V. Kolbin, 1998 This monograph defines the notion of a system by reference to those systems which exhibit goal oriented behavior and utilize the notion of decision making and controls Such systems allow for phenomenological description and fix the nature of causal transformations of input effects into output quantities The study of consequences of the fact that the systems possess some properties constitutes the content of systems optimization methodology which goes beyond the scope of descriptive classification of systems Chapter 1 deals with philosophical problems of systems methodology An attempt is made to systematize and analyze the problems of scientific methodology as applied to systems modeling methodology which is viewed as the most general concept utilized in modern science Chapter 2 focuses on problems of qualitative analysis in natural and social sciences Attention is drawn to problems of measurement theory and quantitative analysis of systems Approaches and methods of systems analysis and synthesis form the central portion of the book Much study is given to the methods of systems decomposition an integration using both discrete and continuous descriptions of objects processes and phenomena Examples of complex goal oriented systems are also provided The remaining part of the book is largely centered around the methodology of multiobjective systems optimization

Decision Making P. Hansen, 1983-02 The Fifth International Conference on Multiple Criteria Decision Making not surprisingly had several objectives First it aimed at being a forum for exchange and intensive discussion of recent ideas on theory and practice of MCDM following the now well established tradition of the previous meetings in the series organized by H Thiriez and S Zions in Jouy en Josas 1975 S Zions in Buffalo 1977 G Fandel and T Gal in Hagen Konigswinter 1979 and J Morse in Newark 1980 Second closer contacts were desired between participants in these meetings and other active groups in the field prominent among which is the European Working Group on Multiple Criteria Decision Aid Third participation of senior or junior researchers who had recently developed important new methodologies such as the Analytical Hierarchy

Process was actively sought for Fourth a synthesis of the rapidly expanding field of MCDM was to be made through selective surveys by leading researchers in the various areas it comprises Fifth cross fertilization and multidisciplinary research was to be encouraged through presentations on the connections between MCDM and mathematics economics game theory computer science and other subjects Sixth much emphasis was to be given to real world applications of MCDM particularly large scale ones and or pioneering work in new fields The present volume reflects the general agreement observed among participants that these goals were largely attained Operations Research in Progress Gustav Feichtinger,P.
