The Mabinogi Charles William Sullivan, 1996 Culture in Practice collects the academic and political writings from the 1960s through the 1990s of anthropologist Marshall Sahlins More than a compilation Culture in Practice unfolds as an intellectual autobiography The book opens with Sahlins's early general studies of culture, economy, and human nature. It then moves to his reportage and reflections on the war in Vietnam and the antiwar movement, the event that most strongly affected his thinking about cultural specificity. Finally, it offers his more historical and globally aware works on indigenous peoples, especially those of the Pacific islands. Sahlins exposes the cultural specificity of the West, developing a critical account of the distinctive ways that we act in and understand the world. The book includes a play review of Robert Ardrey's sociobiology, essays on native consumption patterns of food and clothes in America, and the West's explorations of how two thousand years of Western cosmology affect our understanding of others. It also includes ethnohistorical accounts of how cultural orders of Europeans and Pacific islanders structured the historical experiences of both. Throughout, Sahlins offers his own way of thinking about the anthropological project. To transcend critically our native categories in order to understand how other peoples have historically constructed their modes of existence, even now in the era of globalization, is the great challenge of contemporary anthropology.
