Indigenous War Painting of the Plains Arni Brownstone,2024-07-23 In the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the Indigenous peoples of the Great Plains practiced an archival art narrating war exploits in large scale paintings executed on animal hide robes shirts tipi covers and tipi liners Essentially autobiographical the paintings were worn and lived in by the men whose war exploits they portrayed and were made to be read by the public at large Executed in a pictorial narrative style and documenting actual events these paintings blend visual art and history Indigenous War Painting of the Plains is the first comprehensive look at this important North American art form covering the full corpus of war paintings from fourteen tribes across the plains Two impediments have previously made such a book impractical photography alone falls short of rendering war paintings for the printed page and only about half of the surviving works have reliable documentation on their cultural origins Arni Brownstone surmounts these difficulties by producing precise electronic redrawings and by using well documented paintings to inform poorly documented examples bolstered by a careful examination of collection histories Featuring some 300 photographs and electronic redrawings the book focuses on 83 paintings organized into four chapters covering the paintings of tribes associated with a specific geographical sphere of artistic influence Four appendixes feature paintings combined with translations by Indigenous collaborators who had intimate knowledge of the depicted events Offering vivid access to the key works of war painting preserved in 37 museums throughout North America and Europe Indigenous War Painting of the Plains illuminates distinctions between painting styles of different tribes reveals how they influenced one another and changed over time and conveys a deep understanding of how war painting developed in relation to profound social changes in Plains Indian cultures

Kracht,2017-07 Directed by anthropologist Alexander Lesser in 1935 the Santa Fe Laboratory of Anthropology sponsored a field school in southwestern Oklahoma that focused on the neighboring Kiowas During two months graduate students compiled more than 1 300 pages of single spaced field notes derived from cross interviewing thirty five Kiowas These eyewitness and first generation reflections on the horse and buffalo days are undoubtedly the best materials available for reconstructing pre reservation Kiowa beliefs and rituals The field school compiled massive data resulting in a number of publications on this formerly nomadic Plains tribe though the planned collaborative ethnographies never materialized The extensive Kiowa field notes which contain invaluable information remained largely unpublished until now In Kiowa Belief and Ritual Benjamin R Kracht reconstructs Kiowa cosmology during the height of the horse and buffalo culture from field notes pertaining to cosmology visions shamans sorcery dream shields tribal bundles and the now extinct Sun Dance ceremony These topics are interpreted through the Kiowa concept of a power force permeating the universe Additional data gleaned from the field notes of James Mooney and Alice Marriott enrich the narrative Drawing on more than thirty years of field experiences Kracht s discussion of how Indigenous notions of power are manifested today significantly enhances the existing literature concerning Plains religions
