

The background of the cover is a detailed, monochromatic illustration of a fossilized plant specimen. It shows a complex network of stems, leaves, and possibly a seed or fruit, all rendered in a style that mimics the texture and appearance of a fossil on a rock surface. The colors are muted, with shades of grey, brown, and beige.

Crowther, 2008-04-15 Palaeobiology A Synthesis was widely acclaimed both for its content and production quality Ten years on Derek Briggs and Peter Crowther have once again brought together over 150 leading authorities from around the world to produce Palaeobiology II Using the same successful formula the content is arranged as a series of concise articles taking a thematic approach to the subject rather than treating the various fossil groups systematically This entirely new book with its diversity of new topics and over 100 new contributors reflects the exciting developments in the field including accounts of spectacular newly discovered fossils and embraces data from other disciplines such as astrobiology geochemistry and genetics Palaeobiology II will be an invaluable resource not only for palaeontologists but also for students and researchers in other branches of the earth and life sciences Written by an international team of recognised authorities in the field Content is concise but informative Demonstrates how palaeobiological studies are at the heart of a range of scientific themes

Terra Michael Novacek, 2008-11-11 A paleontologist awakens us to the extinction event that human activity is bringing about today The natural world as humans have always known it evolved close to 100 million years ago with the appearance of flowering plants and pollinating insects during the age of the dinosaurs Its tremendous history is now in danger of profound catastrophic disruption In Terra a brilliant synthesis of evolutionary biology paleontology and modern environmental science Michael Novacek shows how all three can help us understand and prevent what he and others call today's mass extinction event Humanity's use of land our consumption the pollution we create and our contributions to global warming are causing this crisis True the fossil record of hundreds of millions of years reveals that wild and bounteous nature has always evolved not quietly but thunderously as species arise flourish die off and are replaced by new species We learn from paleontology and archaeology that for 50 000 years human hunting mining and agriculture have changed many localities sometimes irrevocably But today Novacek insists our behavior endangers the entire global ecosystem And if we disregard through ignorance antipathy or apathy the theory of evolution that developed with our modern understanding of the Earth's past we not only impede enlightenment but threaten any practical strategy for our own survival The evolutionary future of the entire living planet depends on our understanding this
