Excerpt from Marian Anderson A Portrait Even the little brook flowing near by appeared to bubble with contentment that the work would soon be finished It seemed to know that a dream of many years was about to be fulfilled years full of hard work and tiresome traveling Marian Anderson's studio was about to become a reality Usually she came to see the result of each day's work after the last workman had left This evening she came with ashlight in hand to inspect the small building that was to be the home of her art About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Original Photographic Portrait of Marian Anderson, Photograph, 2016 Portraits of Famous American Women Robert Henkes, 1997-01-01 The portrait is one of the most pure collaborative efforts in the art world The artist is the creator but she or he is wholly dependent on the sitter for inspiration and stimulus When the subject is famous the artist must often compromise true expression for the vanity of the person being painted Though that would seemingly make the portrait less appealing artistically in truth the collaborative nature of the portrait often makes it artistically unique a blending of the artist's style with the desires of the sitter This work takes a fresh look at the portraits of 13 American women Marian Anderson Clara Barton Mary McLeod Bethune Pearl Buck Mary Cassatt Isadora Duncan Marianne Moore Georgia O'Keeffe Eleanor Roosevelt Gertrude Stein Harriet Beecher Stowe Harriet Tubman and Martha Washington and the artists who created them In examining the work of such artists as Abraham Walkowitz John Graham Betsy Graves Reyneau Michael Alexander Werboff and Brenda Putnam one comes to see the unique combination of the personality of the sitter and the style of the artist My Lord, what a Morning Marian Anderson, 2002 My Lord What a Morning is a gentle and engrossing memoir abounding with the tender and inspiring stories of Marian Anderson's life in her own modest words From her humble but proud beginnings in south Philadelphia to international vocal renown the legendary contralto writes of triumph and adversity of being grounded in faith and surrounded by family and of the music that shaped her career Anderson published My Lord What a Morning in 1956 on the heels of her groundbreaking role as the first African American to perform at the Metropolitan Opera In it are bittersweet reminiscences of a working class childhood from her first job scrubbing the neighbors steps to the sorrow and upheaval of her father's untimely death Here are the stories of a young girl with prodigious talent and her warm remembrances of the teachers managers friends accompanists and fans who worked to foster it In addition she provides a veritable travelogue of her concerts across the globe and rare glimpses at the personal life of a woman more concerned with family than celebrity With eleven photographs and a touching new foreword by Anderson's nephew famed conductor and poet James DePreist this edition of My Lord What a Morning revives the classic portrait of a musical legend who was resilient in the bullying face of bigotry and gracious in the unfaltering glow of fame
