Mark Wallinger Is Innocent:

Mark Wallinger Mark Wallinger, 2000-10 This book published on the occasion of the major exhibition Credo at Tate Liverpool presents an opportunity to examine works of art from all points of Mark Wallinger's surprising and ambitious fifteen year career. Along with the largest selection of images of Wallinger's work published to date it includes essays by Lewis Biggs, Ian Hunt and David Burrows that examine the context and history of his practice. Wallinger came to prominence in Britain in the mid 1980s and has since earned an international reputation. He will represent Britain at the Venice Biennale in 2001. His work takes many forms and displays a restless energy that is both intelligently provocative and humorous. A strong element of political and moral commentary underlines his practice which employs irony, satire and formal clarity. Wallinger explores the complex themes of identity, class, race, humour and spirituality. His primary concern has been to establish a valid critical approach towards the politics of representation and the representation of politics. Book Jacket

Contributors address these questions in light of important contemporary issues such as migration, globalization, trans-nationality and trans-cultural difference. Art space and place, new media, fantasy and identity and the movement across and the transgression of the proprieties of boundaries and borders. The book invites the reader to read across the collection, noting differences or making connections between media and forms and between audiences, critical traditions and practitioners with a view to developing a more informed understanding of visual culture and its modalities of mobility and fantasy as encouraged by dominant, emergent and radical forms of visual practice Catalogo, 2001 Wallinger Mark Pier Luigi Tazzi, La Biennale Di Venezia, 2005 Annual Bibliography of Modern Art Museum of Modern Art (New York, N.Y.).
