Kenneson, Jim Street, 2003-07-24

Marketing the church is hot For many church leaders marketing might even be the first article of their creed which goes something like this We believe that our church determines its identity and mission through the tactics of marketing strategies Theologians Kenneson and Street offer a thoughtful and provocative protest with a foreword from Stanley Hauerwas The authors expose the theological presuppositions that inform the marketing project and help us to see that the marketer's presumption that form can be separated from content of the gospel betrays an understanding of the gospel that cannot help betraying the gift that is Christ The authors propose an alternative constructive account of the church's mission and purpose that is not based on exchange of value but on reminding us that the gospel is always a gift a gift that makes impossible any presumptions that there can be an exchange between human beings and God that is rooted in the satisfaction of our untrained needs The cross and resurrection challenge the world's understanding of what our needs should be

A Step-by-step Guide to Church Marketing George Barna, 1992 Is marketing biblical Although the word marketing never appears in the Bible the Bible is filled with examples of successful marketers Solomon Joshua Nehemiah and Paul to name just a few As you'll see in this book these dynamic men of God had the ability to identify people's needs and then find the best ways to meet them Jesus told his followers to do the same to bring his message to people in a way they could understand and relate to That's the heart of marketing And those principles can be immensely useful as you take part in God's work here on earth It's time to move beyond the question of whether or not marketing is a biblical practice The real question is whether your church can afford not to use such a powerful and readily available tool Back cover
