Marketing Your Farm Myrna Greenfield, 2022-11-03 A step by step guide for choosing the best marketing tactics for your farm How much marketing do you need to run a successful farm How much time and money will it take Do you really need a website or Facebook page How can you get your farm to stand out How do you know if your marketing is working Successful farmers can describe the ideal customers for their farm attract their attention and satisfy their needs The best marketing tactics for your farm depend on your goals scale and market conditions If you re a microfarm your needs will be different than if you re running a 200 acre multigeneration family farm Marketing Your Farm provides frank advice for farmers who sell some or all of their offerings directly to consumers It will help you choose implement and measure the right marketing tactics for your farm Learn what to do how to do it and how to measure if it s working Efficient Marketing for Agriculture Theodore Macklin, 1921 The Marketing of Farm Products Louis Dwight Harvell Weld, 1916 Dynamic Farmers' Marketing Jeff Ishee, 1997 Farmer-to-consumer Direct Marketing Act United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Agriculture and Forestry. Subcommittee on Agricultural Production, Marketing, and Stabilization of Prices, 1976 Efficient Marketing for Agriculture Theodore Macklin, 2015-06-11 Excerpt from Efficient Marketing for Agriculture Its Services Methods and Agencies More people are endeavoring to understand marketing now than ever before Without attempting to say the last word on the subject the author has selected and organized economic facts to show that marketing consists in rendering essential services and that production is in no sense complete until they have been rendered Someone must do this work otherwise producers and consumers alike are bound to suffer Whoever renders these services efficiently is entitled to compensation Since farmers and consumers as well as middlemen whether employed cooperatively privately or publicly are all performing some of these services the question of fair compensation is ever before the public The problem of marketing however is not likely to be solved until people generally realize the necessity not only of having necessary services performed but of having them performed by the most efficient methods and by agencies that in functioning take a minimum share of the consumer s dollar The subject is treated from the point of view of the common interests of farmers consumers and middlemen The author wishes to express his thanks especially to Professor Richard T Ely and to Professor Eric Englund for constructive criticisms and suggestions Madison Wisconsin August 1921 About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Marketing of Agricultural Products Richard Louis Kohls, Joseph N. Marketing of Farm Products United States; Dept; Of Commerce,2015-06-02 Excerpt from Marketing of Farm Products And the question now remains which of the three motives just enumerated is to actuate the department in this inquiry The Assistant Secretary I think you can fairly assume that the latter one of the three is the purpose Mr Lubin We want to do what we can for the betterment of the general conditions Mr Lubin Well then it is in order for me to proceed but before doing so I desire to state that Mr Hampton a coworker is here with me and that he represents some State granges What granges do you represent Mr Hampton Mr Hampton Pennsylvania Kentucky Nebraska South Dakota Colorado Idaho Washington and Oregon Mr Lubin I have been working in conjunction with Mr Hampton and with Mr Creasy Mr Creasy is the master of Pennsylvania State Grange and when I leave Washington I am to present this subject before the executive committee of the Pennsylvania State Grange but the presentation then will be modified in some essentials from that made here the reason for which I will explain further on The basic feature in the German system of marketing farm products is its Landwirtschaftsrat its national council of agriculture This Landwirtschaftsrat is a semiofficial body which beginning in the township the county thence upward to the Province culminates in the national organization of its 72 members with its seat in Berlin Its revenue for expenses is met by Government taxation of each farmer having a vote It has the power in a consultative and in an advisory manner under Federal law of exercising the initiative and referendum on all laws that are being enacted or that are up for discussion in the Reichstag which have a direct or an indirect bearing on the industry of agriculture and it has the right to submit amendments or ask the repeal of existing laws bearing on the subject of that industry Of course this is only an advisory body but it is quite clear to be seen from its operation that it is one of the most powerful political and economic bodies in Germany Incidentally it also looks out for the thousand and one things that come under the head of promoting agriculture such as buying selling production distribution cooperative work rural credits etc Now the proposal that I will submit to this department does not embrace the taking up at this time of the Landwirtschaftsrat that will be done at some future time by the farmers themselves but what I will offer right now is intended to serve as a substitute and is of a temporary character in order that the success which is to follow from the start may serve as a means to hasten on the adaptation and adoption of the European marketing system in its most approved and complete form The Assistant Secretary Would you object Mr Lubin to our asking you a question once in a while as you go along Mr Lubin Not at all The Assistant Secretary I would like to ask you if the advisory power of this body is restricted to laws affecting farmers or landowners Mr Lubin I think that it is confined to the things that appertain to agriculture either directly or indirectly About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

AUTHOR,2015-06-05 Excerpt from Marketing and Farm Credits A Collection of Papers and Documents Read at the Fourth Annual Sessions of the National Conference on Marketing and Farm Credits in Chicago at the Hotel Sherman December 4 9 1916 The 1915 volume of the National Conference on Marketing and Farm Credits sounded a new note in the literature of agricultural economics The 1916 volume now presented to the public marks the transition in economic thought from the theoretic to the practical Former speakers of the Conference dwelt largely upon what ought to be done But in 1916 the General Committee made an effort to secure speakers who could tell how to do those things that may be necessary to the national welfare insofar as they might relate to the solution of the American land question and to the future organization of agricultural cooperation This volume we believe presents an advance in agricultural conceptions and voices sane constructive thoughts with regard to the working out of coordinated national and state policies for solution of land settlement landlord and tenant farm credit personal credit and kindred problems and for the encouragement of the business side of farming by agricultural cooperation The attendance at the 1916 Conference exceeded all former records about 2 000 persons being present and over 2 000 000 farmers represented Each general and sectional meeting was rich in free discussion and the quantity of it was so great as to make it impossible for the Committee to incur the expense of publishing everything that was said The Committee also feels some gratification in being able to point to the fact that the Congress of the United States has recently appropriated 250 000 for the Federal Trade Commission to investigate the livestock industry as was urged by the speakers at this Conference and by the resolutions adopted A long line of agricultural progress may be traced as a result
