Marisa Merz:

Marisa Merz Marisa Merz, Marisa Merz Cornelia H. Butler, 2017 Bringing together five decades of painting sculpture and installations from the celebrated Italian artist Marisa Merz this monograph accompanies a major US retrospective of her work. This generously illustrated book offers readers the chance to appreciate the full range of works by Marisa Merz, winner of the 2013 Golden Lion lifetime achievement award at the Venice Biennale. This volume traces Merz's artistic evolution from early experiments with non-traditional materials and processes to intricately constructed installations of the 1970s and the enigmatic ceramic heads of the 1980s and 90s. Authoritative essays explore the rise of international women's art in the 1960s and 70s and Merz's own place in Italy's postwar art history. As the sole female protagonist of Arte Povera, she is one of the few Italian women to exhibit in major venues internationally. Merz's challenging and evocative body of work is deeply personal and resistant to the categories of art history, including Arte Povera and international feminist art, with which she was associated. Previously unpublished texts and poetry by the artist and an illustrated chronology complement this comprehensive look at an enormously influential artist.

Art and Intimacy in Modern Italy Sharon Hecker, Teresa Kittler, 2025-02-20 A much-needed corrective to the history of single authorship, this timely volume offers new insight into the lives and practices of the artist couples, friendships, and communities that shaped postwar art in Italy. Bringing together a series of essays from international scholars across a variety of subject fields, the volume considers a range of longstanding intimate working relationships. Questioning the extent to which exchange formed part of artistic production and the nature of such partnerships, the contributors explore a variety of underexplored case studies that open to new readings of Italian art informed by key contemporary issues surrounding gender and sexuality, modern Italian identities, and transcultural exchange. In covering friendships, bi-racial, trans-cultural, and familial relations, the volume adds much-needed perspectives to modern Italy's social and political histories through case studies of well-known as well as overlooked figures and creative partnerships, including Mario and Marisa Merz, the de Chirico brothers, William Demby and Lucia Drudi, and Antonia and Ugo Mulas. Three sections guide the reader through different working and affective dynamics: Shadowy Presences, Ins and Outs, and Alliances. The volume explores practitioners in the visual arts as well as art critics, institutional figures, screen and theatre writers, designers, and photographers. Rather than merely a descriptive or celebratory account of couples and partnerships in postwar Italian art, Art and Intimacy in Modern Italy asks what comes into view and what is left out when thinking about art history through this relational lens.

Art Is Everything Yxta Maya Murray, 2021-01-15 In her funny, idiosyncratic, and propulsive new novel Art Is Everything, Yxta Maya Murray offers us a portrait of a Chicana artist as a woman on the margins. L.A. native Amanda Ruiz is a successful performance artist who is madly in love with her girlfriend, a wealthy and pragmatic actuary named X-chitl. Everything seems under control: Amanda's grumpy father is living peacefully in Koreatown, Amanda is about to enjoy a residency at the Guggenheim Museum in New York, and once she gets her NEA she's going to film a groundbreaking autocritical documentary in Mexico But then everything starts to fall apart when X chitl s biological clock begins beeping Amanda s father dies and she endures a sexual assault What happens to an artist when her emotional support vanishes along with her feelings of safety and her finances Written as a series of web posts Instagram essays Snapchat freakouts rejected Yelp reviews Facebook screeds and SmugMug streams of consciousness that merge volcanic confession with eagle eyed art criticism Art Is Everything shows us the painful but joyous development of a mid career artist whose world implodes just as she has a breakthrough Marisa Merz Denys Zacharopoulos,2013 Marisa Merz Hans-Ulrich Obrist,2013 Marisa Merz Eduardo (Ed Cicelyn,2007-08-01 Marisa Merz s deep and visionary work has revolutionized the language of contemporary sculpture by introducing techniques traditionally considered as belonging to handicraft tradition or to women s universe Marisa Merz Anna Thurston,2014 Despite past patriarchal patters of preference in the Italian art world women artists are gradually gaining critical praise As demonstrated by the award in the 2013 Venice Biennale with the Golden Lions for Lifetime Achievement given to Marisa Merz 1926 the dialogue surrounding her and women artists in general is growing and I argue that their contributions give vital understanding to the role of Italian women in the era of globalization This will be done through analyzing three different elements of her work media subject matter and ideological intent The thesis begins with a survey of her initial artistic endeavors then moves to consider her transformation from nonfigurative to representational art and then concludes with a focus on Marisa Merz s current production Through examination of her most recent exhibits her relation to male contemporaries and her international influence this thesis suggests that the progressive ideas and methods of Marisa Merz stand as a dynamic contribution reflecting not only her change as a woman artist but also the progressive roles women in Italy are only now beginning to enjoy on a broader political scale Contemporary Women Artists Laurie Collier Hillstrom,Kevin Hillstrom,1999 Provides biographical and career information on more than 350 of the world s most prominent and influential contemporary 20th century women artists Includes visual art in the following media painting sculpture drawing printmaking collage photography ceramics mixed media electronic media performance art video design and graphic arts The Politics of (re)writing and Interpreting Marisa Merz Mariana Moscoso,2014 On September 24 2011 the first of eight commemorative exhibitions opened as part of the larger event of Arte Povera 2011 These exhibitions continued for several months and were accompanied by numerous publications that celebrated and reappraised the achievements of the group and its members both locally and internationally including its sole female artist Marisa Merz However during the height of the movement between 1967 to 1971 the only acknowledged members of the group were male It was not until the 1980s that Merz s participation in the group was officially recognized for the first time Although socio cultural factors played a considerable role in Merz s exclusion from the group s initial publications scholarly literature after the 1980s has continued to marginalize Merz by way of feminized interpretations of her artworks For instance current research primarily focuses on her gender as a subjective feminine sensibility and does not consider feminist theory an applicable method in examining her work My research challenges this assumption by reexamining Merz's relationship to Arte Povera's discursive history to better understand why her work has been feminized within a male paradigm In this paper I examine Merz's so called feminine modesty as an intentional resolve to remain socially marginalized because it provided the opportunity to openly critique the dominant patriarchal realm of capitalist production Therefore paradoxically it is through her marginalized status that she embodies Arte Povera's revolutionary ideals that sought to challenge traditional modes of artistic production and exemplifies principles of feminist thought
