Richard H. Randall,1985 Reimagining Jerusalem's Architectural Identities in the Later Middle Ages Cathleen A.

Fleck,2022-10-10 How can medieval art explain Jerusalem's centrality in the world's faiths of Christianity and Islam? This book delves into that topic by examining how Jerusalem was creatively represented and reimagined in several intriguing Christian and Islamic artworks in the later Middle Ages c 1187 to 1356. The book considers how European Catholic crusaders, Eastern Christian sects and diverse Muslim factions displayed Jerusalem's architecture to express their interpretation of the holy city's sanctity and influence. These examples demonstrate how artworks can reflect Jerusalem's importance to these faiths in the past and illuminate our understanding of its status into the modern era. The Legacy of Antiquity Lenia

Kouneni,2014-09-26 Recent years have seen an increase of interest in classicism and the reception and survival of antiquity. Classical Reception Studies is a rapidly developing field of research and teaching and a growing number of new scholars are investigating issues of reception of classical texts, ideas, performance and material culture across different cultural contexts and in different media. This volume adds new perspectives in this growing field of scholarship. This collection of essays explores the uses of the past from a wide range of perspectives. The papers are drawn from a spectrum of cultures and chronological periods from medieval to modern times, from Italian to Byzantine, from French to British. The characters involved in each case study accessed the past through different means employing varying combinations of texts, oral traditions, iconographic representations and visible remains of the landscape. It is a snapshot of a field in movement, illustrative of current directions and hopeful of producing new ones. The legacy of antiquity is omnipresent and is as multifaceted as suggested by the wide range of the papers. This volume presents new perspectives dealing with ever elusive enigmas and opening the way for future research and investigation to all those who seek to explore the constant fascination with the antique. The Grove Encyclopedia of Medieval Art and Architecture Colum Hourihane,2012 This volume offers unparalleled coverage of all aspects of art and architecture from medieval Western Europe from the 6th century to the early 16th century. Drawing upon the expansive scholarship in the celebrated Grove Dictionary of Art and adding hundreds of new entries, it offers students, researchers and the general public a reliable, up-to-date and convenient resource covering this field of major importance in the development of Western history and international art and architecture. French Books of Hours

Masterpieces of ivory from the Walters Art Richard H. Randall,1985 Imagining the Self, Constructing the Past Robert G. Sullivan,Meriem Pagès,2016-09-01 Imagining the Self, Constructing the Past celebrates the various ways in which the Middle Ages and the Renaissance are adapted, recollected and represented in our own day and age. Most of the chapters fit broadly into one of three categories namely the representation of the self in medieval and early modern history and literature the recollection and utilization of the past in the Middle Ages and the Renaissance and the role of the medieval and the early modern in our own society Overall the contributions to this volume bear witness to the importance of representation to our understanding of ourselves each other and our shared past

Re-thinking Renaissance Objects

Peta Motture,Michelle O'Malley,2011-09-07 Inspired by research undertaken for the new Medieval Renaissance Galleries at the Victoria and Albert Museum Re thinking Renaissance Objects explores and often challenges some of the key issues and current debates relating to Renaissance art and culture Puts forward original research including evidence provided by an in depth study arising from the Medieval Renaissance Gallery project Contributions are unusual in their combination of a variety of approaches but with each paper starting with an examination of the objects themselves New theories emerge from several papers some of which challenge current thinking

EurAsian Matters

Anna Grasskamp,Monica Juneja,2018-05-03 The volume examines the mutually constitutive relationship between the materiality of objects and their aesthetic meanings Its approach connects material culture with art history curation technologies and practices of making A central dimension of the case studies collected here is the mobility of objects between Europe and China and the transformations that unfold as a result of their transcultural lives Many of the objects studied here are relatively unknown or understudied The stories they recount suggest new ways of thinking about space cultural geographies and the complex and often contradictory association of power and culture These studies of transcultural objects can suggest pathways for museum experts by uncovering the multi layered identities and temporalities of objects that can no longer be labelled as located in single regions It is also addressed to students of art history of European and Chinese studies and scholars of consumer culture This eagerly awaited volume offers deep and extensive insights into the fast growing field of material culture studies Its fresh approach to Eurasian objects and materialities will serve as useful reading for all scholars interested in transcultural and global studies A very helpful introductory essay Sabine du Crest University of Bordeaux Montaigne Former Fellow The Harvard University

The Four Modes of Seeing

Elizabeth Carson Pastan,2017-07-05 Borrowing its title from Madeline Harrison Caviness s influential work on the modes of seeing articulated by the twelfth century cleric Richard of Saint Victor this interdisciplinary collection brings together the work of thirty scholars from England France Germany Italy Switzerland and the United States Each author has contributed an original article that engages with ideas formulated in Caviness's wide ranging scholarship. The historiographic introduction discusses themes in Caviness's publications and their importance for art historical and medieval studies today. The book's thematic matrix groups together essays concerned with The Material Object, Documentary Reconstruction, Post-Disciplinary Approaches, Multiple Readings, Gender and Reception, Performativity, Text and Image, Collecting and Consumption, and Politics and Ideology. The contributors include curators, art historians, historians, and literary scholars. Their subjects range from medieval stained glass to the nineteenth century Gothic Revival, the Sachsenspiegel and Mel Gibson's The Passion of the Christ. Many foreground issues of gender, reception, and textuality, which have permeated Caviness's scholarship. Some also present approaches to sites that have been the subject of important studies by Caviness, including Canterbury, Chartres, Reims, Saint Denis, Sens, and Troyes. The volume offers a broad range of methodological approaches to key topics in the study of medieval imagery and thus highlights the vitality of the field today.
