Material Culture Critical Concepts In The Social Sciences:

Material Culture Victor Buchli, 2004 Publisher description      Material Culture Victor Buchli, 2004      Material Culture Victor Buchli,      Material culture : critical concepts in the social sciences. Vol. 3 : Pt. 1 Victor Buchli, 2004 Publisher description      An Anthropology of Absence Mikkel Bille, Frida Hastrup, Tim Flohr Soerensen, 2010-03-24 In studying material culture anthropologists and archaeologists use meaningful physical objects from a culture to help understand the less tangible aspects of that culture such as societal structure rituals and values What happens when these objects are destroyed by war natural disaster or other historical events Through detailed explanations of eleven international case studies the contributions reveal that the absence of objects can be just as telling as their presence while the objects created to memorialize a loss also have important cultural implications Covering everything from organ donation to funerary rituals to prisoners of war The Archaeology of Absence is written at an important intersection of archaeological and anthropological study Divided into three sections this volume uses the presence of absence to compare cultural perceptions of material qualities and created memory the mind body connection temporality and death This rich text provides a strong theoretical framework for anthropologists and archaeologists studying material culture      Archaeological Artefacts as Material Culture Linda Hurcombe, 2014-05-12 This book is an introduction to the study of artefacts setting them in a social context rather than using a purely scientific approach Drawing on a range of different cultures and extensively illustrated Archaeological Artefacts and Material Culture covers everything from recovery strategies and recording procedures to interpretation through typology ethnography and experiment and every type of material including wood fibers bones hides and adhesives stone clay and metals With over seventy illustrations with almost fifty in full colour this book not only provides the tools an archaeologist will need to interpret past societies from their artefacts but also a keen appreciation of the beauty and tactility involved in working with these fascinating objects This is a book no archaeologist should be without but it will also appeal to anybody interested in the interaction between people and objects      Material Culture: History and scope of material culture studies , 2004      The Social Life of Materials Adam Drazin, Susanne Küchler, 2020-06-08 Materials play a central role in society Beyond the physical and chemical properties of materials their cultural properties have often been overlooked in anthropological studies finished products have been perceived as social yet the materials which comprise them are considered raw or natural The Social Life of Materials proposes a new perspective in this interdisciplinary field Diverting attention from the consumption of objects the book looks towards the properties of materials and how these exist through many transformations in a variety of cultural contexts Human societies have always worked with materials However the customs and traditions surrounding this differ according to the place the time and the material itself Whether or not the material is man made materials are defined by social intervention Today these constitute one of the most exciting areas of global scientific research and innovation harboring the potential to act as key vehicles of change in the world But this materials revolution has complex social implications Smart materials are designed to anticipate our actions and needs yet we are increasingly unable to apprehend the composite materials which comprise new products Bringing together ethnographic studies of cultures from around the world this collection explores the significance of materials by moving beyond questions of what may be created from them Instead the text argues that the materials themselves represent a shifting ground around which relationships identities and powers are constantly formed and dissolved in the act of making and remaking

Cultural Blending In Korean Death Rites

Chang-Won Park, 2010-04-11 Cultural Blending in Korean Death Rites examines the cultural encounter of Confucianism and Christianity with particular reference to death rites in Korea As its overarching interpretive framework this book employs the idea of the total social phenomenon a concept first introduced by the French anthropologist Marcel Mauss 1872 1950 From the perspective of the total social phenomenon this book utilizes a combination of theological historical sociological and anthropological approaches and explores Korean death rites by classifying them into three categories ritual before death Bible copying ritual at death funerary rites and ritual after death ancestral ritual It focuses on Christian practices as they epitomize the complex interplay of Confucianism and Christianity By drawing on a total social phenomenon approach to the empirical case of Korean death rites Chang Won Park contributes to the advancement of theory and method in religious studies

Contradictions of Archaeological Theory Sandra Wallace, 2012-01-30 Is current archaeological theory stuck at an impasse Sandra Wallace argues that archaeological theory has become mired as a result of logical and ontological contradictions By showing that these contradictions are a result of common underlying philosophical assumptions and fallacies this book is able to show how a fresh approach to this discipline is necessary to resolve them even if this requires re examining some of the tenants of orthodox archaeology This fresh approach is achieved by using Critical Realism as an under labourer to philosophically evaluate archaeological theory Starting by assessing the historical impact of philosophy on the discipline and then looking at the current relationship between archaeology and the ontology of the material this book facilitates the construction of discipline specific theory by archaeologists The result is an approach to archaeology that allows both students and practitioners to free themselves from endemic contradictions and re discover their approach to archaeological theory

Buying into the World of Goods Ann Smart Martin, 2010-08-01 Cowinner 2008 Fred Kniffen Book Award Pioneer America Society Association for the Preservation of Landscapes and Artifacts How did people living on the early American frontier discover and then become a part of the market economy How do their purchases and their choices revise our understanding of the market revolution and the emerging consumer ethos Ann Smart Martin provides answers to these questions by examining the texture of trade on the edge of the upper Shenandoah Valley between 1760 and 1810 Reconstructing the world of one country merchant John Hook Martin reveals how the acquisition of consumer goods created and validated a set of ideas about taste fashion and lifestyle in a particular place at a particular time Her analysis of

Hook's account ledger illuminates the everyday wants transactions and tensions recorded within and brings some of Hook's customers to life a planter looking for just the right clock a farmer in search of nails a young woman and her friends out shopping on their own and a slave woman choosing a looking glass This innovative approach melds fascinating narratives with sophisticated analysis of material culture to distill large abstract social and economic systems into intimate triangulations among merchants customers and objects Martin finds that objects not only reflect culture they are the means to create it

Culture Chris Jenks, 2003 Culture is a concept that has remained on the top of the agenda within the social sciences for two decades It incites controversy and debate and always appears fresh This book updated throughout and with new sections on visual culture urban culture and subcultures argues that to understand the concept we need to locate it within traditions of thought and appreciate its political and ideological bases The book looks at the concept of culture in the context of idealism and materialism examining its relation to the notion of social structure and assessing its once assumed monopoly within literary study Culture remains stimulating throughout A standard reference text for students on sociology and cultural studies courses this second concise and student friendly edition offers an overview over the sociology of culture in an accessible format

Constructing Communities Bleda S. Düring, 2006 This study consists of a contextual analysis of a group of Central Anatolian Neolithic settlements that includes the sites of A kl H y k Canhasan III atalh y k Erbaba and Canhasan I and can be dated between 8500 and 5500 Calibrated BC These settlements are characterised by a spatial organisation in which buildings are grouped in neighbourhood clusters and in which an estimated 30 to 40 households would have lived These neighbourhoods lack streets and the buildings within them were accessed from the roof level The study explores the social significance of this form of organisation of settlement space at a number of levels First the nature of the individual buildings and how these related to household is investigated Second non domestic features in these settlements such as sub floor burials are contextualised in order to identify status differentiation between buildings Third the scale and composition of clustered neighbourhoods is studied to arrive at a better understanding of their significance Finally the manner in which neighbourhoods in a settlement related to one another and the ways in which settlements were part of larger settlement systems is considered In this manner new light is shed on the social structure of these Central Anatolian Neolithic communities
