Literacy and Learning in the Content Areas Sharon Kane,2017-07-05 The 3rd Edition of Literacy Learning in the Content Areas helps readers build the knowledge motivation tools and confidence they need as they integrate literacy into their middle and high school content area classrooms. Its unique approach to teaching content area literacy actively engages preservice and practicing teachers in reading and writing and the very activities that they will use to teach literacy to their own students in middle and high school classrooms. Rather than passively learning about strategies for incorporating content area literacy activities, readers get hands on experience in such techniques as mapping, webbing, anticipation guides, booktalks, class websites, and journal writing and reflection. Readers also learn how to integrate children's and young adult literature, primary sources, biographies, essays, poetry, and online content communities and websites into their classrooms. Each chapter offers concrete teaching examples and practical suggestions to help make literacy relevant to students' content area learning. Author Sharon Kane demonstrates how relevant reading, writing, speaking, listening, and visual learning activities can improve learning in content area subjects and at the same time help readers meet national content knowledge standards and benchmarks.

Integrating Literature in the Content Areas

Sharon Kane, 2017-05-12 This practical, accessible resource will help future and practicing teachers integrate literature into their middle school or high school classrooms while also addressing content area standards and improving the literacy skills of their students. Two introductory chapters are followed by five chapters that each cover a different genre: Chapter 3 Informational Books, Chapter 4 Fiction, Chapter 5 Biography/Autobiography and Memoir, Chapter 6 Poetry, and Chapter 7 How-to and Hands-on Books. Each genre chapter consists of four parts: Part 1 Discusses the genre and how content area teachers can use books within that genre to further content learning and enhance literacy skills; Part 2 Offers hands-on instructional strategies and activities using literature with activities for use in a variety of disciplines; Part 3 Presents individual author studies three or four per chapter with bibliographies and guidelines for using the authors' books in content area courses; Part 4 Features an annotated bibliography of specially selected children and young adult literature for that genre organized by content area. The annotations provide information about the book which can be used to prepare booktalks and teaching ideas for using in a specific content area. Altogether these sections contain more than 600 annotated entries tabbed by subject area including art, English language arts, languages and culture, math and technology, music, PE, health science, and social studies history.

A Close Look at Close Reading Barbara Moss, Diane Lapp, Maria Grant, Kelly Johnson, 2015-05-21 The Common Core State Standards have put close reading in the spotlight as never before. While middle and high school teachers want and need students to connect with, analyze, and learn from both literary and informational texts, many are unsure how to foster the skills students must have in order to develop deep and nuanced understanding of complicated content. Is there a process to follow? How is close reading different from shared reading and other common literacy practices? How do you prepare students to have their ability to analyze complex texts measured by high stakes assessments? And how do you fit close reading instruction and experiences into an already crowded curriculum? Literacy experts Barbara Moss, Diane Lapp, Maria Grant, and Kelly Johnson answer these questions and more as they explain how to teach middle and high school students to be close readers how to make close reading a habit of practice across the content areas and why doing so will build content knowledge Informed by the authors extensive field experience and enriched by dozens of real life scenarios and downloadable tools and templates this book explores Text complexity and how to determine if a particular text is right for your learning purposes and your students The process and purpose of close reading with an emphasis on its role in developing the 21st century thinking speaking and writing skills essential for academic communication and college and career readiness How to plan teach and manage close reading sessions across the academic disciplines including the kinds of questions to ask texts to use and supports to provide How to assess close reading and help all students regardless of linguistic cultural or academic background connect deeply with what they read and derive meaning from complex texts Equipping students with the tools and process of close reading sets them on the road to becoming analytical and critical thinkers and empowered and independent learners In this comprehensive resource you ll find everything you need to start their journey Teaching Children Mathematics ,2000
