Come right down and then you're done.
That's the way to make a one!

Around and back on the railroad track.
Two! Two! Two!

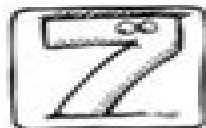

Around the tree, around the tree.
That's the way to make a three!

Down, over, down some more.
That's the way to make a four!

Put on a hat. Then take a dive.
Make a round belly. Now that's a five!

Make a hoop and then a loop!
Six!

Across the sky and down from heaven.
That's the way to make a seven!

Make an 'S' and close the gate.
That's the way to make an eight!

Make a circle and then a line.
That's the way to make a nine!

Number Poems:

The Number Poems Matthew Welton, 2016-09-15 Matthew Welton is a poet enchanted by form and process. Many of the Number Poems abide by subtle patterns or constraints creating symmetries in the arrangement of sentences, lines, words, or metrical feet. As with good architecture, however, Welton's rules and methods resist exclamation; rather, they are the framework upon which are established localised ambiances, be they of warmth or dazzlement, the home or the dream. Other sequences, such as the mind-altering Melodies, for the meanwhile, begin with a palette of words and images and recombine them kaleidoscopically. By adding layers of colour and sound, Welton composes a modulating sensory wave. Even in silence, we do not so much read these poems as perform them.

The Number Poems Matthew Welton, 2017-01-01 The Number Poems occupies the playful middle ground between tradition and experiment. An innovative and unconventional poet, Welton presents us with poems which fuse techniques like rhyme or iambic metre with a playfully postmodern aesthetic, creating new forms that unfold as sets of variations. Fascinated by poetic form but bored by the idea of writing sonnets or sestinas, Welton peppers his poems with extreme alliteration and crazy mathematical vocabulary to give us a selection box of experiments in working within formal constraints.

Alphabet Poems & Number Poems John Foster, 2008-01-01 Capture the imagination of young readers with these alphabet and number poems that offer a controlled vocabulary and a gentle progression to ensure confident independent reading. Includes full color illustrations. Poetry 32 pages.

The Number Poems Pi O, 2000

Number Poems Nicholas Gordon, 2013-01-23 The poems in this book are selected from Nicholas Gordon's popular poetry Web site Poems for Free at <http://www.poemsforfree.com>. They may be used free for any personal or non-commercial purpose. Each represents a year in a person's life from one to one hundred. Most are acrostics spelling out a number and are portraits of people at a particular age. Taken as a whole, the book depicts the span of human life from a variety of points of view.

The Poetry Corner Arnold B. Cheyney, 1982 Contains lessons and activities designed to teach children to write poetically and to appreciate poetry in both formal and informal settings.

Count Me a Rhyme Jane Yolen, 2020-10-13 This delightful counting book of poetry and pictures on the Texas 2x2 Reading List captures animals by the numbers. Vivid playful poems tell the stories of one elk, two birds, three fish from one through ten and then many as they go about their day, either solo or within a special circle of friends. The marvelous photographs allow readers to peek at some common creatures that enjoy the company of others.

The Folded Clock Gerhard Ruhm, 2025-11-11 Like Kurt Schwitters before him, Gerhard Ruhm has incorporated numerals and digits into his visual and aural poetry since the early days of Wiener Gruppe in the 1950s. The Folded Clock brings together these number poems comprising typewriter ideograms, typed concrete poetry collages of everyday paper ephemera and scraps, and a wide variety of literary forms where the visual pattern created on the page underpins the thematic meaning. Blurring the distinction between counting and recounting, his recitations imaginatively translate arithmetic vocabulary into the mundane, the existential, or the cosmic, such as a history of the universe narrated as a solar year from the Big Bang on January 1 to the moon landing in the last seconds of New Year's Eve. Ruhm's images and texts unleash the sensual qualities of numerals to subvert our digit-filled environment with its pervasive intensification of seamless control. Alphabet Poems and Number Poems John Foster, 2008-01-01 Capture the imagination of young readers with these alphabet and number poems that offer a controlled vocabulary and a gentle progression to ensure confident independent reading. Includes full color illustrations. Poetry 32 pages. What's in a Number?, 1999 What's in a Number is part of the Maths Together series an early numeracy programme for parents and children to share. The set contains six picture books designed to introduce children simply and enjoyably to mathematical ideas. Each book also has its own detailed support notes. Puppet & Flannelboard Stories for Numbers, Shapes, and Colors Belinda Dunnick Karge, 2002-09 Rational Numbers H. L. Hix, 2000 In his second book of poetry H. L. Hix uses two contrasting poetic sequences. Orders of Magnitude defies rationality in favour of invention in the musical sense producing a short composition that works out a single idea. As in music the whole composition achieves its irrational effect through rational formal structure with 100 poems each ten lines long with ten syllables per line. In the second sequence Figures the speakers follow their pure rationality though it leads them inevitably into the dark heart of the irrational. The result is a ledger of love and loss a balancing of grief's books. Winter Numbers: Poems Marilyn Hacker, 1996-01-17 Nominated for the National Book Critics Circle Award. In her seventh volume Marilyn Hacker confronts life and death at the end of our genocidal century making another extraordinary contribution to the feminist and lesbian canon. The Number of Names Donald Levering, 2012 Donald Levering introduces The Number of Names by referring to the mystical texts of the Kabbalah. In it we learn that God creates the world through numbers and letters rearranging them in infinite combinations to make new things come into being. My anthropomorphic version of this is God wearing dark glasses fingering the accordion keyboard of primal letters and numbers playing into existence a panoply of matter and energy forms. Or God the grandfather of all fiddlers making up stories and lies to accompany the improbable songs that become our lives. Born in Kansas City Donald Levering was educated at Baker University The University of Kansas Lewis and Clark College and Bowling Green State University. His prior publications include five chapbooks of poetry The Jack of Spring Carpool Mister Ubiquity The Fast of Thoth and The Kingdom of Ignorance as well as three full length poetry volumes Outcroppings From Navajoland Horsetail and Whose Body. Mr Levering was a recipient of a National Endowment for the Arts Fellowship Grant in poetry and was an Academy of American Poets Featured Poet in the online Forum. He lives in Santa Fe New Mexico. Number Parade Jackie Kay, Grace Nichols, 2001 In line with the Numeracy Framework initiative this collection of number poems is a way to start your child or a whole classroom full of children learning about numeracy. Written by leading poets it is designed to further develop mathematical awareness in young children in a fun way. Number Poems, 1993 Number Poems Irving Weiss, 1997-08-01 River of Love in an Age of Pollution David Haberman, 2023-09-01 Celebrated as an aquatic form of
