Implementing school food and nutrition policies

2021-09-14 Schools play an important role in promoting healthy diets and good nutrition and can create an enabling environment for children. However the school food environment is often not conducive to a healthy diet. To address this challenge and to support Member States in implementing policy measures as recommended by the Framework for Action from the 2014 Second International Conference on Nutrition the World Health Organization WHO is in the process of developing evidence informed policy guidelines on the food environment including school food and nutrition interventions and policies with a focus on five interventions and policies that influence the school food environment. These five include nutrition standards or rules direct food provision marketing restrictions nudging interventions and pricing policies. This review on contextual factors to be considered in the implementation of school food and nutrition policies was prepared as part of the required process for WHO guideline development

Nutrition in Promoting the Public's Health

Mildred Kaufman, 2007 Continuing advances in the science of nutrition and the study of infectious disease require that nutritionists be skilled in the behavioral sciences and social marketing in order to impact the preventable etiologies of obesity and chronic diseases. Add to that a new understanding of the social and environmental effects on health and illness that will further require nutritionists to expand their expertise and assume new roles in the generation of public policy affecting all areas of society. This important new book covers all aspects of developing and delivering nutrition related services in the community. Grounded in the science of nutrition it offers simple practical guidance and tools for nutritionists whether working in clinical or public health venues to develop and implement effective public nutrition programs. Each chapter begins with reader objectives and ends with Points to Ponder and a listing of helpful websites
