

How effective is art therapy for trauma recovery?

01

Art therapy offers multiple techniques for trauma recovery. Mandala creation, body mapping, expressive collage, digital art, and guided visualization are some effective methods.

02

Creating mandalas can increase calmness and focus in just 15-20 minutes. Body mapping helps trauma survivors reconnect with their physical selves and track progress over time.

03

Expressive collage allows for metaphorical expression of complex emotions. Digital art reduces anxiety about making mistakes and appeals to younger clients or those with physical limitations.

Sail Through the Storms with

Cash Transfer Jonatan Lassa,2022-11-22 World Humanitarian Summit in 2016 call for humanitarian industries including the United Nations and NGOs to bolder promote the use of cash transfers in responding to disasters This book documents experiences and collects personal accounts on disasters COVID 19 and cash transfers from disaster survivors in Indonesia whose lives intersect with other survivors and humanitarian responders ranging from local activists to NGOs workers The survivors are often labelled as project beneficiaries Cash assistance and disaster payments are temporary income for the affected community It is no silver bullets despite their rich potential to reduce vulnerability and suffering One of the promises of such assistance is that it can help both women and children survive and rebuild their lives after a crisis be it from a natural catastrophe or man made hazards The question is how such assistance is understood in a fuller context of a survivor s complex life To its critics humanitarian cash assistance is like a drop of salt in the ocean in that it is not enough to make a difference to disaster affected people s lives Nevertheless the question is how a relatively small size and temporarily distributed cash assistance within a short time window can significantly impact the beneficiaries life at a particular time and places ruined by disasters Survivors and beneficiaries are not just numbers They are humans with stories worth listening to This book shows that to what extent cash assistance can be of meaningful they must be understood in a fuller context of people s lives stories including their wade dreams that go beyond the cold and dry quantitative evaluation measures that are often chasing the numbers with a certain percentage of Yes and No in agreeing or disagreeing about how good and helpful support is to the life of the crisis affected people

Peacebuilding in Traumatized Societies

Barry Hart,2008-02-26 This work examines trauma identity security education and development as issues of critical importance to peacebuilding and social reconstruction after large scale violence This violence takes the form of war mass killings and genocide as well as structural violence that has humiliated and impoverished millions of people across the globe Transitional justice leadership religion and the arts are other crucial issues that are included in this analysis of violence and its transformation The book explores how each issue can be independently addressed for transformational purposes but argues for their active interdepdendence in order to more effectively help individuals communities and societies emerge from violence and begin the rebuilding process Peacebuilding for Traumatized Societies examines these issues in theoretical and practical terms through case studies and descriptions of training and problem solving procedures in Rwanda the Balkans Colombia and the Philippines

Exiting Violence

Debora Tonelli,Gerard Michael J. Mannion,2024-06-04 In the 20th and 21st centuries where violence has scarred countless lives the interplay between religion politics and conflict remains a complex web Exiting Violence looks to untangle some of these knots showing not only how faith can ignite bloodshed but also how it can inspire peace and build bridges Resulting from an international collaboration between the Fondazione Bruno Kessler RESET Dialogues Among Civilizations and the Berkley Center for Religion Peace and World Affairs this collection assesses the state of scholarship and explores the differing ways in which religion can contribute to societies and communities exiting situations of violence and hatred From Biblical hermeneutics to Buddhism from secularism to legal systems Exiting Violence offers a nuanced and thought provoking exploration of the multifaceted role religion plays in the human struggle for peace and justice

Searching for Normal in the Wake of the Liberian War Sharon Alane Abramowitz, 2014-07-03 At the end of Liberia's thirteen year civil war the devastated population struggled to rebuild their country and come to terms with their experiences of violence During the first decade of postwar reconstruction hundreds of humanitarian organizations created programs that were intended to heal trauma prevent gendered violence rehabilitate former soldiers and provide psychosocial care to the transitioning populace But the implementation of these programs was not always suited to the specific mental health needs of the population or easily reconciled with the broader aims of reconstruction and humanitarian peacekeeping and psychiatric treatment was sometimes ignored or unevenly integrated into postconflict humanitarian health care delivery Searching for Normal in the Wake of the Liberian War explores the human experience of the massive apparatus of trauma healing and psychosocial interventions during the first five years of postwar reconstruction Sharon Alane Abramowitz draws on extensive fieldwork among the government officials humanitarian leaders and an often overlooked population of Liberian NGO employees to examine the structure and impact of the mental health care interventions in particular the ways they were promised to work with peacekeeping and reconstruction and how the reach and effectiveness of these promises can be measured From this courageous ethnography emerges a geography of trauma and the ways it shapes the lives of those who give and receive care in postwar Liberia

Civil Society and Peacebuilding in Sierra Leone Vandy Kanyako, 2024-04-23 This book investigates the important role of local actors in Sierra Leone in helping to foster peace and provide for the needs of vulnerable populations following the end of the civil war Despite severe economic political and in some cases security challenges local civil society organizations in Sierra Leone have expanded rapidly over the last 20 years incorporating their local knowledge and traditions into their work to cater to the needs of war affected populations However the preference of international development donors for funneling resources and technical assistance through civil society groups at the expense of central government has also created some resentment and backlash This book examines this intersection between civil society donors and government in Sierra Leone considering both the relevance of civil society activities and their limitations and what this means ultimately for human security in the country. Highlighting the importance of African civil society actors as proactive agents of change this book will be of interest to researchers and stakeholders across the fields of African peacebuilding development and conflict resolution

When the Yellow River Floods

Hui-Lin Hsu, 2024-01-09 When the Yellow River Floods explores the relationship between environmental degradation hydraulic engineering and nation building in the context of Liu E's The Travels of Lao Can. This book contributes to the field by providing a unique perspective on modern Chinese literary history that goes beyond conventional narratives that focus solely on political and cultural factors. The main areas covered include the role of water management in literary nation building and the connections between the novel's various themes such as river engineering medical and political discourses national sentiment and landscape description. The book is targeted toward scholars and students of Chinese literature history and environmental studies as well as those interested in the intersections between literature nation building and environmental challenges. By offering a comprehensive and material based analysis of The Travels of Lao Can this book broadens the understanding of nation building in early twentieth century China highlighting the impact of environmental crises and hydraulics on the formation of national literature and consciousness. The book provides a new perspective on the environmental roots of modern Chinese literature making it an essential read for those seeking to understand the complex interplay between literature the environment and national identity in China
