Bernardini, C. Tarsitani, M. Vicentini, 2012-12-06 The research in Physics Education has to do with the search of solutions to the complex problem of how to improve the learning and teaching of physics The complexity of the problem lies in the different fields of knowledge that need to be considered in the research In fact besides the disciplinary knowledge in physics which must be considered from the conceptual the historical and the epistemological framework one has to take into account some basic knowledge in the context of psychology and the cognitive sciences for the general and contextual aspects of learning and some basic knowledge in education and communication for what concerns teaching skills and strategies Looking back at the historical development of the research one may recognize that the complexity of the endeavour was not clear at first but became clear in its development which shifted the focus of the research in the course of time from physics to learning to teaching We may say that the research started more than 30 years ago with a focus on disciplinary knowledge Physicists in different parts of the western world after research work in some field of physics decided to concentrate on the didactical communication of physical knowledge

In-Between: Architectural Drawing and Imaginative Knowledge in Islamic and Western Traditions Hooman Koliji,2016-03-09 Contemporary technical architectural drawings in establishing a direct relationship between the drawing and its object tend to privilege the visible physical world at the expense of the invisible intangible ideas and concepts including that of the designer's imagination As a result drawing may become a utilitarian tool for documentation devoid of any meaningful value in terms of a kind of knowledge that could potentially link the visible and invisible This book argues that design drawings should be recognized as intermediaries mediating between the world of ideas and the world of things spanning the intangible and tangible The notion of the Imaginal as an intermediary between the invisible and visible is discussed showing how architectural drawings lend themselves to this notion by performing as creative agents contributing not only to the physical world but also penetrating the realm of concepts The book argues that this in between quality to architectural drawing is essential and that it is critical to perceive drawings as subtle bodies that hold physical attributes for example form proportion color highly evocative yet with no matter Focusing on Islamic geometric architectural drawings both historical and contemporary it draws on key philosophical and conceptual notions of imagination from the Islamic tradition as these relate to the creative act In doing so this book not only makes important insights into the design process and act of architectural representation but more broadly it adds to debates on philosophies of the imagination linking both Western and Islamic traditions
