Nuestra América:

José Martí's "Our America" Jeffrey Grant Belnap, Raul A. Fernandez, 1998 Considerable attention has been given to Cuban poet essayist and activist Jos Martí's 1891 essay Nuestra América but relatively little has been paid to the rest of the journalistic work that Martí produced during his fourteen year exile in the United States. In Jos Martí's Our America Jeffrey Belnap and Raúl Fernández present essays from Latin American, Caribbean and U.S. based scholars who consider Martí's rich and underexplored body of work and position Martí as an emblem of New American studies. A Cuban exile from 1881 to 1895, Martí was a correspondent writing in New York for various Latin American newspapers. Grasping the significance of rising U.S. imperial power, he came to understand the Americas as a complex system of kindred but not equal national formations whose cultural and political integrity was threatened by the overbearing aggressiveness of the United States. This collection explores how in his journalistic work Martí critiques U.S. racism, imperialism and capitalism, warns Latin America of impending U.S. geographical, cultural and economic annexation, and calls for recognition of the diversity of America's cultural voices. Reinforcing Martí's hemispheric vision with essays by a wide range of scholars who investigate his analysis of the United States' significance as a Latino outsider and his analyses of Latin American cultural politics, this volume explores the affinities between Martí's thought and current reexaminations of what it means to study America. Jos Martí's Our America offers a new understanding of Martí's ambiguous and problematic relation with the United States and will engage scholars and students in American, Latin American and Latino studies, as well as those interested in cultural, postcolonial, gender and ethnic studies. Contributors: Jeffrey Belnap, Raúl Fernández, Ada Ferrer, Susan Gillman, George Lipsitz, Oscar Martí, David Noble, Donald E. Pease, Beatrice Pita, Brenda Gayle Plummer, Susana Rotker, Jos David Saldívar, Rosaura Sánchez, Enrico Mario Sant Doris, Sommer Brook Thomas.

Nuestra América Carlos Octavio Bunge, 1903 The Dialectics of Our America José David Saldívar, 1991-10-31 Joining the current debates in American literary history, Jos David Saldívar offers a challenging new perspective on what constitutes not only the canon in American literature but also the notion of America itself. His aim is the articulation of a fresh transgeographical conception of American culture, one more responsive to the geographical ties and political crosscurrents of the hemisphere than to narrow national ideologies. Saldívar pursues this goal through an array of oppositional critical and creative practices. He analyzes a range of North American writers of color: Rolando Hinojosa, Gloria Anzaldúa, Arturo Islas, Ntozake Shange, and others, and Latin American authors: Jos Martí, Roberto Fernández Retamar, Gabriel García Márquez, and others whose work forms a radical critique of the dominant culture, its politics, and its restrictive modes of expression. By doing so, Saldívar opens the traditional American canon to a dialog with other voices, not just the voices of national minorities but those of regional cultures different from the prevalent anglocentric model. The Dialectics of Our America in its project to expand the canon and define a pan-American literary tradition will make a critical difference in ongoing attempts to reconceptualize American literary history.
