Genre and Language in Modern Arabic Literature Sasson Somekh,1991 The Modern Arabic Literary Language
Jaroslav Stetkevych,1970 The Modern Arabic Literary Language Jaroslav Stetkevych,2006 The Modern Arabic Literary Language is a thoughtful examination of the changes that the Arabic language has undergone in its transition from its roots in classical Arabic to a language able to meet the demands of twentieth century life In this volume a respected and masterful scholar of the Arabic language Jaroslav Stetkevych notes the ways that new words have been incorporated into the language ranging from deriving new terms from existing roots for example the word for newspaper derives from the word meaning sheet to write on to downright assimilation of foreign words Also noting the changes in grammar and semantics Stetkevych illustrates how literary Arabic has become a more flexible language Originally published in 1970 this volume is a clear assessment of lexical and stylistic developments in Modern Literary Arabic This classic book is an important resource for scholars and advanced students of Arabic language and linguistics who wish to study the complexities of language change and lexical expansion An Introduction to Modern Literary Arabic David Cowan,1958 The lessons are clear in non technical language and have generous examples with plenty of exercises for translation from Arabic to English and from English to Arabic This is the manual that students interested in Arabic as a living and expanding world language will prefer It is the first to deal mainly with modern literary Arabic In Mr Cowan s words The purpose is to explain to the students in as concise a manner as possible the grammatical structure of the modern Arabic literary language as it is found today in newspapers magazines books the radio and public speaking I have endeavoured to restrict the material to the minimum which may serve as a stepping stone to a deeper study of Arabic As the fundamental grammar of written Arabic has hardly changed as an introduction to the classical language also Having once mastered its contents the student should have a sound grasp of Arabic grammar and can then direct his studies towards modern literature or classical according to his needs and inclinations Studies in Modern Arabic Prose and Poetry Shmuel Moreh,1988
