Modern Methods For Statistical Analysis:

Modern Methods of Data Analysis John Fox, J. Scott Long, 1990-03-01 The contributions to this volume seek to move the standard of statistical analysis and presentation in the social sciences towards an accurate and sensitive representation of data. The traditional use of statistics in the social sciences has followed a rather lock stepped pattern in which first a spe

Fundamentals of Modern Statistical Methods Rand R. Wilcox, 2010-03-10 Conventional statistical methods have a very serious flaw. They routinely miss differences among groups or associations among variables that are detected by more modern techniques even under very small departures from normality. Hundreds of journal articles have described the reasons standard techniques can be unsatisfactory but simple intuitive explanations are generally unavailable. Situations arise where even highly nonsignificant results become significant when analyzed with more modern methods. Without assuming the reader has any prior training in statistics Part I of this book describes basic statistical principles from a point of view that makes their shortcomings intuitive and easy to understand. The emphasis is on verbal and graphical descriptions of concepts. Part II describes modern methods that address the problems covered in Part I. Using data from actual studies many examples are included to illustrate the practical problems with conventional procedures and how more modern methods can make a substantial difference in the conclusions reached in many areas of statistical research. The second edition of this book includes a number of advances and insights that have occurred since the first edition appeared. Included are new results relevant to medians regression measures of association strategies for comparing dependent groups methods for dealing with heteroscedasticity and measures of effect size

Modern Methods for Business Research George A. Marcoulides, 1998-03-01 This volume introduces the latest popular methods for conducting business research. The goal of each chapter author a leading authority in a particular subject area is to provide an understanding of each method with a minimum of mathematical derivations. The chapters are organized within three general interrelated topics Measurement Decision Analysis and

Modeling. The chapters on measurement discuss generalizability theory latent trait and latent class models and multi faceted Rasch modeling. The chapters on decision analysis feature applied location theory models data envelopment analysis and heuristic search procedures. The chapters on modeling examine exploratory and confirmatory factor analysis dynamic factor analysis partial least squares and structural equation modeling multilevel data analysis modeling of longitudinal data by latent growth curve methods and structures and configural models of longitudinal categorical data
