The Mountains of California John Muir, 2015-02-04 John Muir was born in Scotland on April 21st 1838 His Father wanted his children to have a stricter Religious upbringing and therefore moved the family to the United States John Muir is perhaps known today as the most pre eminent naturalist and advocate for the preservation of much of the western United States Today being an environmentalist is laudable but in Muir's days the country was there to be exploited but by hard work and lobbying Muir did much to turn such beautiful areas as Yosemite into protected National Parks His writing is not only an invaluable guidebook to these unspoilt places but also a hymn to their spirituality As a keen scientific mind he helped to push the understanding of nature forward by observing and writing upon the glaciers and their actions in eroding and shaping much of the land Muir helped to also create The Sierra Club which he led for many years on projects to preserve these and other areas of outstanding natural beauty He was equally adept at persuading politicians from Presidents to local State officials and the common man to come together in the defence of Nature     John of the Mountains John Muir, 1979 John Muir America's pioneer conservationist and father of the national park system was a man of considerable literary talent As he explored the wilderness of the western part of the United States for decades he carried notebooks with him narrating his wanderings describing what he saw and recording his scientific researches This reprint of his journals edited by Linnie Marsh Wolfe in 1938 and long out of print offers an intimate picture of Muir and his activities during a long and productive period of his life The sixty extant journals and numerous notes in this volume were written from 1867 to 1911 They start seven years after the time covered in The Story of My Boyhood and Youth Muir's uncompleted autobiography The earlier journals capture the essence of the Sierra Nevada and Alaska landscapes The changing appearance of the Sierras from Sequoia north and beyond the Yosemites enthralled Muir and the first four years of the journals reveal his dominating concern with glacial action The later notebooks reflect his changes over the years showing a mellowing of spirit and a deep concern for human rights Like all his writings the journals concentrate on his observations in the wilderness His devotion to his family his many warm friendships and his many sided public life are hardly mentioned Very little is said about the quarter century battle for national parks and forest reserves The notebooks record in language fuller and freer than his more formal writings the depth of his love and transcendental feeling for the wilderness The rich heritage of his native Scotland and the unconscious music of the poetry of Burns Milton and the King James Bible permeate the language of his poetic fancy In his later life Muir attempted to sort out these journals and at the request of friends published a few extracts A year after his death in 1914 his literary executor and biographer William Frederick Bad also published episodes from the journals Linnie Marsh Wolfe set out to salvage the best of his writings still left unpublished in 1938 and has thus added to our understanding of the life and thought of a complex and fascinating American figure
