Multi Leadership In Urban Schools Shifting Paradigms For Administration And Supervision In The New Millennium:

Multi-leadership in Urban Schools Judy A. Alston,2002-10-02 K 12 educational leadership literature highlights the need for co leadership as it relates to school administrative effectiveness While co leadership in the principalship is not a new idea it is a shift in thinking from the traditional model of one principal as school administrator Multi leadership in Urban Schools proposes a model for school administrative leadership through collective administrative responsibility With three distinct people doing three distinct jobs while jointly collaborating in a model of leadership each can contribute to the creation of a community of learning to improve delivery of instruction and maximize student opportunity for academic excellence This text used in educational leadership preparation programs and in urban school districts efforts for reform can re conceptualize urban school leadership influencing effective leadership and contributing to student academic achievement

International Handbook of Leadership for Learning Tony Townsend,John MacBeath,2011-07-10 The International Handbook of Leadership for Learning brings together chapters by distinguished authors from thirty one countries in nine different regions of the world The handbook contains nine sections that provide regional overviews a consideration of theoretical and contextual aspects system and policy approaches that promote leadership for learning with a focus on educating school leaders for learning and the role of the leader in supporting learning It also considers the challenge of educating current leaders for this new perspective and how leaders themselves can develop leadership for learning in others and in their organisations especially in diverse contexts and situations The final chapter considers what we now know about leadership for learning and looks at ways this might be further improved in the future The book provides the reader with an understanding of the rich contextual nature of learning in schools and the role of school leaders and leadership development in promoting this It concludes that the preposition for between the two readily known and understood terms of leadership and learning changes everything as it foregrounds learning and complexifies rather than simplifies what that word may mean Whereas common terms such as instructional leadership reduce learning to outcomes leadership for learning embraces a much wider developmental view of learning Rethinking the "L" Word in Higher Education: The Revolution of Research on Leadership Adrianna Kezar,Rozana Carducci,Melissa Contreras-McGavin,2006-05-19 In these times of change and challenge in higher education pleas for leadership have become frequent However the type of leadership required within this new context of globalization demographic changes technological advancement and questioning of social authority may call for different skills requiring a re education among campus stakeholders if they want to be successful leaders In the past twenty years there has been a revolution in the way that leadership is conceptualized across most fields and disciplines Leadership has moved away from being leader centered individualistic hierarchical focused on universal characteristics and emphasizing power over followers Instead a new vision has emerged leadership that is process centered collective context bound non hierarchical and focused on mutual power and influence processes This volume summarizes research and literature about new conceptualizations of leadership to inform practice This is volume 31 number 6 of the ASHE Higher Education Report a bi monthly journal published by Jossey Bass See our entire list of ASHE Higher Education Report titles for a wide variety of critical issues facing Higher Education today Still Not Equal M. Christopher Brown,2007 Still Not Equal Expanding Educational Opportunity in Society addresses the successes and failures of Brown v Board of Education and the Civil Rights Act of 1964 as well as the continuing challenge of expanding educational opportunity in the United States and across the Black diaspora The educational political and social influence resulting from Brown the Civil Rights Act and their progeny have shaped the dynamics of the collective educational and social experiences of people of color Notwithstanding the obstacles barriers and enablers of educational occupational and economic status outcomes impact the formation and interpretation of public policy specifically and public perception generally about racialized notions of schooling and learning The pursuit of educational access attendance and attainment is intertwined with the implications of academic research and public policy to improve local practices in school settings Inasmuch as a diverse research agenda priorities and activities become situated to critically address status and attainment outcomes in education from preschool through adulthood for African Americans in the United States and abroad the resulting complexities in education and other settings will continue to behave in ways that cross racial lines Families Festus E.
