Multimedia/Hypermedia in Open Distributed Environments Wolfgang Herzner, Frank Kappe, 2012-12-06 Over the last few years multimedia hardware and applications have become widely available in the personal computer and workstation environments and multimedia is rapidly becoming an integral part of stand alone single user systems In contrast the problems encountered when moving to open distributed environments are only just beginning to be identified Examples are the transmission of dynamic data video sound over large distances and cooperative work Following on from two successful workshops on multimedia EG MM 94 concentrates on topics related to multimedia hypermedia in open distributed environments The goal of this symposium was not only to give a comprehensive overview of the current state of research development and standardisation in the field but also to provide an opportunity for live demonstrations to experience directly the presented results The symposium program consists of two invited keynote speeches eight technical sessions one tutorial and one demonstration session A workshop following immediately after the symposium provides an opportunity for in depth discussions of open problems among experts It is intended to fill a gap often experienced at larger meetings and conferences the lack of time to discuss in detail issues raised during the event such as the characteristics of different approaches to a certain problem It is intended that the results of the workshop be published as a Eurographics Technical Report
