Affective Narratology Patrick Colm Hogan, 2011-11-01 Stories engage our emotions We've known this at least since the days of Plato and Aristotle What this book helps us to understand now is how our own emotions fundamentally organize and orient stories In light of recent cognitive research and wide reading in different narrative traditions Patrick Colm Hogan argues that the structure of stories is a systematic product of human emotion systems Examining the ways in which incidents events episodes plots and genres are a function of emotional processes he demonstrates that emotion systems are absolutely crucial for understanding stories Hogan also makes a case for the potentially integral role that stories play in the development of our emotional lives He provides an in depth account of the function of emotion within story in widespread genres with romantic heroic and sacrificial structures and more limited genres treating parent child separation sexual pursuit criminality and revenge as these appear in a variety of cross cultural traditions In the course of the book Hogan develops interpretations of works ranging from Tolstoy s Anna Karenina to African oral epics from Sanskrit comedy to Shakespearean tragedy Integrating the latest research in affective science with narratology this book provides a powerful explanatory account of narrative organization
