Minorities in Shark Sciences Jasmin Graham, Camila Caceres, Deborah Santos de Azevedo Menna, 2022-11-10 Minorities in Shark Sciences showcases the work done by Black Indigenous and People of Color around the world in the fields of shark science and conservation Edited by three minority researchers it provides positive role models for the next generation Highlighting new and important research done in the fields of biology ecology and evolution the book places emphasis on scientists with diverse backgrounds and expertise from around the world The heart of this book is that community and minority voices are important and have always been to science regardless of diplomas universities accolades western standards of academia Despite the use of the term Minorities most of the world's population do not identify as white nor male and in fact all minorities together comprise the global majority of humans For those in these historically underserved and underrepresented demographics it is meaningful to be highlighted and be given credit for their contributions This book showcases to the world the many Black Indigenous People of Color and LGBTQ scientists leading marine conservation both in terms of scientific research and science communication It has been shown in the literature that diversity in scientists creates diversity in thought which leads to innovation Strong minority voices are exactly what is needed to bring greater attention to the conservation of sharks and this book illustrates innovative science by people who were historically excluded from STEM It highlights the unique perspectives these scientists bring to their field that allow them to interact with stakeholders particularly in the areas of conservation and outreach As we continue to amplify these often forgotten voices through research outreach and engagement we hope to stimulate innovation and transformative change in the field of shark conservation and marine science

Shark Mark Carwardine, 2004 A richly illustrated reference Sharks are awe inspiring beautiful mysterious and frightening However perceived they never fail to excite and impress They predate the dinosaurs and have ruled the seas for 400 million years Shark presents the facts and explores the fallacies about these nearly perfectly adapted fish from their prehistoric beginning to their struggle for survival today The book covers Their origins and ancestors Diversity of the species Shark behavior and physiology Research projects Face to face encounters Conservation efforts A detailed chapter on shark attacks explains where when and why attacks occur The book also describes the different types of attacks hit and run bump and bite and sneak attacks and provides useful tips for not becoming a statistic Engagingly written and illustrated with stunning photographs Shark combines the latest scientific findings and celebrates the mystery and diversity of a remarkable species
