Schoedinger, 2005-01-13 SHARED IDENTITY AND PHILOSOPHICAL HERITAGE: THE HISTORY OF THOUGHT IN TURKIC CULTURE MAHIRA HUSEYNOVA, ELVIN TALISHINSKY, BAHÄ AHMET YILMAZ, FERAHILA BABAYEVA-SHUKUROVA, SHAHISMAYIL ISMAYILOV, CIHANGIR ISHBILIR, 2025-08-25

The history of world philosophical thought is mainly based on the study and presentation of the development path of Western philosophy. There is an objective reality here. Because in Europe philosophy emerged at the level of science even before our era and developed at a great speed. The famous Plato Academy which operated in Ancient Greece played an important role in the history of world philosophical thought. The names and services of Socrates who is considered the teacher of Western philosophy and Aristotle whom Plato's Academy gave to humanity are famous in the world. For many years Aristotle has been considered the most powerful representative of world philosophical thought. The foundations of the vast majority of scientific fields that exist in the modern world today were laid by Aristotle. In the Middle Ages and later periods Western philosophy also had world renowned philosophers such as Georg Hegel, Immanuel Kant, Friedrich Nietzsche and others. Along with all this philosophical thought in the Turkic world has emerged since ancient times and has undergone its own unique development. However for several reasons the study and teaching and even the promotion of Turkish philosophical thought has remained in the background. First of all since Turkish philosophical thought in ancient times arose and developed mainly through oral folk literature and folklore examples are rightly considered examples of fiction it has not been studied from a philosophical perspective for a long time. In my opinion in the light of independence there is a sufficiently rich material for conducting research on philosophical thought in the oral folk literature of each of the Turkic peoples and writing monographs. Secondly the socio political and philosophical movements of the Turkic peoples in ancient times and the Middle Ages were largely criticized and not included in the scope of scientific research during the Soviet era which was a strictly atheist society because they were of a religious nature. Movements such as Hurufism and Sufism which had been active for a long time in the Middle Ages were generally considered religious mystical teachings and presented as reactionary movements outside the scientific circulation. Thirdly since the concept of national philosophy was limited during the Soviet period and only the direction of forming a unified Soviet socio philosophical thought was considered a priority the history of philosophical thought of the Turkic peoples was not even remembered. Only since the eighties of the 20th century have efforts been made to bring the history of philosophical thought of individual Turkic peoples including Azerbaijan to the agenda. In any case the department of History of Azerbaijani Philosophical Thought is one of the relatively young scientific institutions of the Institute of Philosophy and Sociology of ANAS. As is known since the period of independence along with the history of world philosophical thought a certain revival has been observed in the field of studying the path of development of the philosophical thought of the Turkic peoples. However, this process has been developed over the past thirty years with the expansion of the tendency to study the history of philosophical thought of each of the Turkic peoples separately. Thus, dissertations, monographs, and articles dedicated to the history of philosophical thought of the Turkic, Uzbek, Kazakh, Kyrgyz, Turkmen peoples, as well as the history of philosophical thought of Azerbaijan or the scientific heritage of those who created philosophy in those peoples, have begun to appear mainly since the period of independence. This in turn has brought to mind the necessity of the emergence of the concepts of the history of all Turkic philosophical thought or Turkish philosophy.

Russian Thought After Communism: The Rediscovery of a Philosophical Heritage James P. Scanlan, 2016-09-16. An examination of Russia's philosophical heritage. It extends from the Slavophiles to the philosophers of the Silver Age from emigre religious thinkers to Losev and Bakhtin and assesses the meaning for Russian culture as a whole. Philosophical Heritage of the Tamils, 1983. Papers presented at a seminar organized by the International Institute of Tamil Studies, 1983.

The Philosophical Heritage of the Christian Faith Harold Augustus Bosley, 1944. African Musical Aesthetics John Murungi, 2011-05-25. In the West, philosophy is generally confined to the domain of the intellect and music to the domain of the emotion. This book makes either domain the location for the other. African musical aesthetics constitutes this location and has its home in it. Moreover, since the separation of the domain of the intellect and the domain of emotion represents a bifurcation of what it is to be a human being and by making either domain the location of the other, what African musical aesthetics accomplishes is the affirmation of a unified sense of what it is to be a human being. Accordingly, the unity of philosophy and music gives rise to a unified sense of being human. It is to such unity that African musical aesthetics takes us. For African musical aesthetics to accomplish this task, this book challenges the conventional Western understanding of philosophy, an understanding that projects Africa as devoid of philosophy. It is this projection that pervaded Africa during the colonial period and it is the projection that is challenged in African philosophy. From an African philosophical perspective, African musical aesthetics turns out to be an emancipatory process that seeks to affirm the humanity of Africans but also a process that seeks to affirm common humanity. Music is not solely a matter of audiology, what is played or what one dances to. It has its elemental task in calling our attention to what we are as human beings. In so far as it is sensuous, it constitutes us as members of the sensible world and links us intrinsically to all that is sensuous. It is more than humanism. Music registers us as members of nature. It is nature, naturing. Reprints University of Sydney, 1926. The Australasian Journal of Psychology and Philosophy, 1924. Australasian Journal of Psychology and Philosophy, 1924. Whewell's Critics John Wettersten, 2005. William Whewell's views on the philosophy of science were dismissed as incoherent and eclectic when he introduced them in the middle of the 19th century, though some leading contemporaries engaged and even incorporated them. When his ideas were resurrected a century later, they were dismissed as poor induction rather than original thinking.

Wettersten philosophy of science Mannheim U Germany explores why Whewell's impact continues to be felt and why almost all theorists have had to come to terms with his ideas He also addresses larger concerns such as whether traditions can be assessed rationally and whether there is a logic to how they change or can be changed Six commentaries follow his treatise and he responds to them Annotation 2004 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com Islam, State, and Modernity Zaid Eyadat, Francesca M.
