Women's Colonial Gothic Writing, 1850-1930 Melissa Edmundson, 2018-05-19 This book explores women writers involvement with the Gothic The author sheds new light on women s experience a viewpoint that remains largely absent from male authored Colonial Gothic works The book investigates how women writers appropriated the Gothic genre and its emphasis on fear isolation troubled identity racial otherness and sexual deviancy in order to take these anxieties into the farthest realms of the British Empire The chapters show how Gothic themes told from a woman s perspective emerge in unique ways when set in the different colonial regions that comprise the scope of this book Canada the Caribbean Africa India Australia and New Zealand Edmundson argues that women s Colonial Gothic writing tends to be more critical of imperialism and thereby more subversive than that of their male counterparts This book will be of interest to students and academics interested in women s writing the Gothic and colonial studies The Australian Woman's Survival Guide Mia Balwyn, 2007 Do you know all the verses to the National Anthem Do you need help to finally get the kids to leave home How do you choose the best Australian wines An how do you make a campfire if you are lost in the wilderness This guide can turn your life around and place your destiny firmly in your own hands Sound Citizens Catherine Fisher, 2021-06-08 In 1954 Dame Enid Lyons the first woman elected to the Australian House of Representatives argued that radio had created a bigger revolution in the life of a woman than anything that has happened any time as it brought the public sphere into the home and women into the public sphere Taking this claim as its starting point Sound Citizens examines how a cohort of professional women broadcasters activists and politicians used radio to contribute to the public sphere and improve women s status in Australia from the introduction of radio in 1923 until the introduction of television in 1956 This book reveals a much broader and more complex history of women's contributions to Australian broadcasting than has been previously acknowledged. Using a rich archive of radio magazines, station archives, scripts, personal papers and surviving recordings, Sound Citizens traces how women broadcasters used radio as a tool for their advocacy, radio's significance to the history of women's advancement and how broadcasting was used in the development of women's citizenship in Australia. It argues that women broadcasters saw radio as a medium that had the potential to transform women's lives and status in society and that they worked to both claim their own voices in the public sphere and to encourage other women to become active citizens. Radio provided a platform for women to contribute to public discourse and normalised the presence of women's voices in the public sphere both literally and figuratively.

The Pack of Women Robyn Archer, 1986      Black Woman Walking Maureen Stone, 2002

Ask Maureen Stone when she started walking and she will tell you with mild irritation: 'Ever since I stopped crawling. But she is lying, she never crawled. She was a very sickly child who did not walk until she was almost three and then went on to walk the world. This is a book about travel that is not a travel book. It is a book about walking and hiking but it is not about leisure. These activities provide the context within which the author examines and comments on issues in today's world. The approach is a provocative blend of the personal and the political, offering a different view of today's world as seen through the eyes of a black woman, sociologist, traveller and hiker. The result is a book which it will be difficult to put down. And which the reader will want to return to time and again. From Barbados to Bhutan, from Grenada to Guatemala, from Africa to Australia, China to Christchurch, Barbados and New Zealand, Maureen has been there walking, observing and listening. From the foothills of the Himalayas to the Old Man of Coniston, she tells of encounters with men and women and presents and discusses the issues and problems of today. In letters to her sisters around the world and through conversations with her brothers, her travels and experiences are recounted. From the personal to the political, she moves sometimes with humour, always with painful honesty. She writes with a dash of Caribbean humour, a good helping of European sociology and a flavouring of Eastern philosophy. This book is for Everywoman and Everyman who, if they look close enough, will find something of themselves within these pages. Black Woman Walking travels a road worth following.

Tracks Robyn Davidson, 2013-10-22

The incredible true story of one woman's solo adventure across the Australian outback, accompanied by her faithful dog and four unpredictable camels. I arrived in Alice Springs at five a.m. with a dog, six dollars and a small suitcase full of inappropriate clothes. There are some moments in life that are like pivots around which your existence turns. For Robyn Davidson, one of these moments comes at age twenty-seven in Alice Springs, a dodgy town at the frontier of the vast Australian desert. Davidson is intent on walking the 1700 miles of desolate landscape between Alice Springs and the Indian Ocean, a personal pilgrimage with her dog and four camels. Tracks is the beautifully written, compelling true story of the author's journey and the love-hate relationships she develops along the way with the Red Centre of Australia, with Aboriginal culture, with a handsome photographer and especially with her lovable and cranky camels: Bub, Dookie, Goliath and Zeleika.

Adapted into a critically acclaimed film starring Mia Wasikowska and Adam Driver Tracks is an unforgettable story that proves that anything is possible Perfect for fans of Cheryl Strayed's Wild      Women of the Pacific ,1930      Woman's Home Companion ,1950      New Woman ,1987      Great Pioneer Women of the Outback Susanna De Vries,2005-01-01 In the 1800s the first white farmers and graziers making their homes in the outback were joined by their wives many of whom had no idea what lay in store This book profiles Australia's women pioneers and records the extraordinary grit and determination it took to build what many would consider an ordinary life      Woman Alone Laine Cunningham,2016-11-01      Annual register of women's clubs ,1925      Hunger for the Wild Michael L. Johnson,2007 Americans have had an enduring yet ambivalent obsession with the West as both a place and a state of mind Michael L Johnson considers how that obsession originated how it has determined attitudes toward and activities in the West and how it has changed over the centuries      Women of the Outback S.
