Agent Causality F. Vollmer,2013-03-14 We act for reasons But it is sometimes claimed the mental states and events that make up reasons are not sufficient conditions of actions Reasons never make actions happen We as agents persons selves subjects make our actions happen Actions are done by us not elicited by reasons The present essay is an attempt to understand this concept of agent causality Who or what is an agent And how in virtue of what does an agent do things or refrain from doing them The first chapter deals with problems in the theory of action that seem to require the assumption that actions are controlled by agents Chapters two and three then review and discuss theories of agent causality Chapters four and five make up the central parts of the essay in which my own solution is put forth and chapter six presents some data that seem to support this view Chapter seven discusses how the theory can be reconciled with neuro physiological facts And in the last two chapters the theory is confronted with conflicting viewpoints and phenomena Daniel Robinson and Richard Swinburne took time to read parts of the manuscript in draft form Though they disagree with my main viewpoints on the nature of the self their comments were very helpful I hereby thank them both

Outdoor Life ,1912 Outside Barry Lopez,2014-02-24 The six stories in Outside show Barry Lopez s majestic talent as a fiction writer Lopez writes in spare prose but his narratives resonate with an uncanny power With a reverence for our exterior and interior landscapes these stories offer profound insight into the relationships between humans and animals creativity and beauty and ultimately life and death In Desert Notes the narrator says All my life I have wanted to trick blood from a rock The story proceeds to instruct the visitor on how to experience the desert but continues like no ordinary field guide At stake here is what is at the furthest edge of our grasp You will think you have hold of the idea when you have only the hold of its clothing Rattlesnakes the shell of a beetle a few twigs silence out of these spare elements Lopez conjures a realm that shimmers with an elusive but palpable presence The Search for the Heron and Within Birds Hearing present encounters with animals that are imbued with spiritual and often inexplicable exchanges In solitary almost visionary episodes the narrators pass into permeable realms of nature recalling a time when humans and animals spoke the same language Lopez s gift is to imagine a reality where humans can be so embedded in the natural world that the boundaries between inner and outer fall away Again and again whether describing a Navajo rug possessing the essence of its maker or a boy who can change places with his half coyote dog named Leaves or a teacher whose presence brings into question the meaning of friendship Lopez portrays elemental and sacred places His prose transcends its simplicity to enter spaces of wonder and mystery As James Perrin Warren says in his compelling introduction

Lopez's narrators bear witness to extraordinary patterns and purposes. The storyteller is vital to the community and to a healthy landscape but the vital relationship is also reciprocal. We participate along with Lopez in the long history of storytelling. We become part of the atmosphere in which wisdom shows itself. Barry Moser's eleven otherworldly densely layered engravings accompany the text. Each provides a meditative experience that parallels Lopez's complex sense of our relationship to nature. An afterword by Lopez closes this dramatically original collaboration. Outside brings together Barry Lopez, best known for his National Book Award winning Arctic Dreams, Barry Moser, the publisher of Pennyroyal Press whose reputation as a book artist, printmaker, designer, and artist is legendary, and the widely published James Perrin Warren, a professor of English at Washington and Lee University, to offer an abundance of riches for readers and lovers of fine books.

The Editor; the Journal of Information for Literary Workers, 1922      Writing Anchors Jan Wells, Janine Reid, 2004. This comprehensive handbook shows teachers how to build a foundation for writing with effective lessons that are the key to powerful writing workshops. Writing Anchors demonstrates how to create a supportive classroom model, writing experiences, and create enthusiasm for writing among students. The practical lessons explore the major elements of writing with explicit strategies for teaching the major forms of writing: Informational writing, detailed descriptions of ways to take and organize notes, use text features, and create reports that have voice. Poetry and personal writing, language choice, imagery, using the senses, and finding the personal pulse of the writer. Narrative extends writing skills with lessons on story sequence, problem solving, and character development. The lessons form metacognitive anchors that build an understanding of the elements of powerful writing. Each lesson comes with an anchor cue card that prompts students to apply their growing understandings independently in writing workshops and in assessing their own writing. In addition, the book provides more than thirty effective tools that are ready to copy and use in the classroom: writing checklists, rubrics for assessment, graphic organizers, note-taking grids, semantic maps, story maps, tips for proofing, and student examples collected from grade 2-7 classrooms.
