Out Of Place Homeless Mobilizations Subcities And Contested Landscapes Suny:

Out of Place Talmadge Wright, 1997-05-08 Winner of the 1998 Distinguished Scholarship Award of the Section on Marxist Sociology of the American Sociological Association Homeless persons find themselves excluded repressed and displaced in all sectors of everyday life from punitive police and city zoning practices to media stereotypes Wandering through the streets of developing cities these poorest of the poor have no place to go More and more these city developments are not simply accepted passively rather resistance by organized homeless groups civil protests squatting and legal advocacy spread as conditions of everyday life deteriorate for the very poor Out of Place Homeless Mobilizations Subcities and Contested Landscapes details the development of two organized homeless resistances in two different cities From the redevelopment protesters and squatting activities of the Student Homeless Alliance in San Jose to the squatter camps of Tranquility City in Chicago the differences and similarities between both groups are highlighted within the context of city redevelopment policies Wright argues for considering homelessness not merely as an issue for social welfare but first and foremost as a land use issue directly connected to issues of gentrification displacement and the cultural imaginings of what the city should look like by those who have the power to shape its development How the homeless combat the restructurings of everyday life how they attempt to establish a place is understood within the context of tactical resistances Questions of collective identity and collective action are raised as a result of the successful organizing efforts of homeless groups who refuse to be victims The struggle between individual and collective forms of empowerment is highlighted with the conclusions pointing to the necessity to rethink and go beyond the traditional solutions of more housing and job training

Out of Place Talmadge Wright, Out of Place Homeless Mobilizations Subcities and Contested Landscapes details the development of two organized homeless resistances in two different cities From the redevelopment protesters and squatting activities of the Student Homeless Alliance in San Jose to the squatter camps of Tranquility City in Chicago the differences and similarities between both groups are highlighted within the context of city redevelopment policies Wright argues for considering homelessness not merely as an issue for social welfare but first and foremost as a land use issue directly connected to issues of gentrification displacement and the cultural imaginings of what the city should look like by those who have the power to shape its development

Poverty and Welfare in America David Wagner, 2019-09-12 This book closely examines controversial claims and beliefs surrounding poverty and anti poverty programs in the United States It authoritatively dismantles falsehoods half truths and misconceptions leaving readers with an unbiased accurate understanding of these issues Poverty and Welfare in America Examining the Facts like every book in the Contemporary Debates series is intended to puncture rather than perpetuate myths that diminish our understanding of important policies and positions to provide needed context for misleading statements and claims and to confirm the factual accuracy of other assertions This book clarifies some of the most contentious and misunderstood aspects of American poverty and the social welfare programs that have been crafted to combat it over the years In addition to providing up to date data about the extent of American poverty among various demographic groups in the United States it examines the chief causes of poverty in the 21st century including divorce disability and educational shortfalls Moreover the book provides an evenhanded examination of the nation s social welfare agencies and the effectiveness of various social service programs managed by those agencies in addressing and reducing poverty

Tent City, Seattle Tony Sparks,2024-04-30 Transforms our understanding of being unhoused in the United States Tent City 3 provides Seattle s unhoused people with a place to create and sustain not just shelter but a home In 2000 it became one of the first organized peer operated tent encampments in the city a type of community that has become more common throughout the West Coast and the United States in the intervening years Based on groundbreaking participatory research and interviews this book explores the lives of Tent City 3 s residents and their efforts to reclaim dignity freedom and the deep human connection to one s own space Tent City 3 upends stereotypes of homelessness by being a self managed self governing and largely self supporting community of informal housing Residents enact ongoing and relational homemaking practices that challenge widely accepted notions of private and public self and other and home and homeless Tony Sparks reveals how small tasks undertaken in Tent City 3 contribute to a larger process of homemaking through practices of care collectivity and the creation of a commons He also shows how the encampment s residents refuse the normative boundaries of private property to create and sustain a sense of home and resist the ongoing settler colonialism that justifies their exclusion Brimming with insightful analysis and rich storytelling Tent City Seattle dispels myths about homelessness while placing the issue within the arc of American history

Theory, Justice, and Social Change Christopher R. Williams,Bruce A. Arrigo,2012-09-22 Throughout history social and intellectual crises have given rise to compelling suggestions for reform steeped in various progressive sensibilities For example within the discipline of criminology particularly during the 1980 s and 1990 s a number of unconventional theoretical perspectives emerged that sought to challenge many of the assumptions embedded within its own mainstream discourse and to propose alternative solutions for meaningful sustainable change Conceived of as critical in overarching orientation these efforts to rethink the foundations of criminological verstehen can be traced to several specific theoretical and methodological strands of inquiry e g anarchism peacemaking chaos theory postmodernism Though distinct in some respects these emerging models are linked paradigmatically by their shared discontent with conventional criminological thought and by their radicalized posture toward existing and previously unexamined epistemic crises Collectively this is an agenda for reform that seeks to establish a more humane and just social order particularly as citizens and society confront the institutional and communal problems posed by crime delinquency and deviance Theory Justice and Social Change Theoretical Integrations and Critical Applications represents a provocative series of essays that systematically reviews or extends the role of critical social theory in fostering justice and change in several relevant though problematic social contexts Mindful of the need to address both conceptual exegeses and pragmatic concerns the articles contained in this volume grapple with the ongoing double crisis that confronts theory and practice in the construction of knowledge By appropriating and integrating various insights from several heterodox and critically animated lines of inquiry each chapter deftly exposes where and how conventional sociological and criminological thought has failed to effectively address such human social issues as homelessness mental illness minority rights juvenile justice global violence and criminal punishment In doing so Theory Justice and Social Change provides new and much needed direction regarding theory development in the social sciences and indicates why charting such a course of theory action yields more enlightened prospects for justice and change in society and in our lives

Street People and the Contested Realms of Public Space

Randall Amster,2004 Amster studies the social and spatial implications of homelessness in America Increasingly commentators have lamented the erosion of public space charting its decline along with the rise of commercialization and privatization A result is the criminalization of homelessness a phenomenon revealed here through participant observations informal conversations and in depth interviews with street people city officials and social service providers Amster explores the interconnections among i the impetus of development and gentrification ii the enactment of anti homeless ordinances and regulations iii the material and ideological erosion of public space iv emerging forces of resistance to these trends and v the continuing viability of anti systemic movements

Research Handbook on Homelessness

Guy Johnson,Dennis Culhane,Suzanne Fitzpatrick,Stephen Metraux,Eoin OÕSullivan,2024-08-06 The Research Handbook on

Homelessness presents a comprehensive account of the current knowledge and understanding of homelessness the substantial challenges it presents and the latest developments in responding to the issue Bringing together 54 of the world's leading scholars in this field this multidisciplinary Research Handbook acknowledges the increasing interest in homelessness across various academic disciplines and highlights the constant evolution of this issue as well as the research methods that accompany it

Youth Without Family to Lean On Moshe Israelashvili, Shula Mozes, 2022-09-20 Youth Without Family to Lean On draws together interdisciplinary global perspectives to provide a comprehensive review of the characteristics dynamics and development of youth aged 15-25 who have no family to lean on either practically or psychologically. In this timely volume Mozes and Israelashvili bring together leading international experts to present updated knowledge information on existing interventions and unanswered questions in relation to youth without family to lean on in pursuit of fostering these youth's positive development. The various chapters in this book include discussions on different topics such as social support, developing a sense of belonging, parental involvement and internalized vs externalized problems on populations including homeless youth, residential care leavers, refugees, asylum seekers, young women coming from vulnerable families and school dropouts, and interventions to promote these youths' mentoring relationships, labor market attainment, out-of-home living placements, use of IT communication and participation in community based programs. Additionally, various problems and challenges are presented and elaborated on such as Who needs support, Who is qualified to provide support, How should related interventions be developed. The book takes a preventive approach and aims to emphasize steps that can be taken in order to promote young people's positive development in spite of the absence of a family to rely on in their life and examines the best practices in this context as well as the international lessons that deserve further dissemination and exploration. This book is essential reading for those in psychology, sociology, public health, social work, law, criminology, public policy, economics and education, and is highly enriching for scholars and practitioners as well as higher education students who wish to understand and help the gradually increasing number of youth who are forced too early to manage their life alone.

Lost in Space Randall Amster, 2008 Amster explores the historical and contemporary implications of homelessness as a social and spatial problem drawing upon academic disciplines and policy concerns ranging from urban geography to legal advocacy. Homeless people find themselves in a struggle to preserve places that are theoretically open to everyone regardless of status. Urban spaces in particular manifest a complex ecology comprised of people, culture, architecture, technology and the natural environment expressed through gentrification, redevelopment and privatization. In this ecology, homeless people are criminalized for performing basic activities such as sitting or sleeping. These trends are evident across the U.S. and internationally, linking local issues with wider forces of globalization.
