Cycle and Automobile Trade Journal, 1904 Inclusion and Equity in Outdoor Leisure Mandi Baker, Neil Carr, 2025-11-06 Drawing on a variety of perspectives, personal narratives, geographies, and approaches, this book challenges dominant discourses of outdoor leisure, associated theoretical approaches, and modes of representation regarding the access, inclusion, and social justice of minoritised participants. We consider concepts like privilege, power, and empowerment to present a range of outdoor leisure experiences of people with diverse body shapes, races, physical abilities, and health conditions, gender, and sexual identities, ages, and beyond human bodies. It offers fresh insights into how leisure in the outdoors can be understood, used, and accessed in ways in which willing participants of all kinds, and especially those who have not traditionally been included, supported, and centred, can access the benefits of wellbeing, learning, development, and challenges that outdoor leisure participation is revered for. The book covers a range of outdoor conceptualisations that challenge the reader to think deeply and broadly about the common threads which bind the broad field of outdoor leisure together. The range of participant experiences explored in this book encompasses everything from suburban outdoors to wild places, summer camps to scuba diving, dog walking to mindful reflection, and trail walking to electric bikes.
