Our Study Of Africa:

Critical Terms for the Study of Africa Gaurav Desai, Adeline Masquelier, 2018-12-07 For far too long the Western world viewed Africa as unmappable terrain a repository for outsiders wildest imaginings This problematic notion has had lingering effects not only on popular impressions of the region but also on the development of the academic study of Africa Critical Terms for the Study of Africa considers the legacies that have shaped our understanding of the continent and its place within the conceptual grammar of contemporary world affairs Written by a distinguished group of scholars the essays compiled in this volume take stock of African studies today and look toward a future beyond its fraught intellectual and political past Each essay discusses one of our most critical terms for talking about Africa exploring the trajectory of its development while pushing its boundaries Editors Gaurav Desai and Adeline Masquelier balance the choice of twenty five terms between the expected and the unexpected calling for nothing short of a new mapping of the scholarly field The result is an essential reference that will challenge assumptions stimulate lively debate and make the past present and future of African Studies accessible to students and teachers alike

The Routledge Companion to Business in Africa Sonny Nwankwo, Kevin Ibeh, 2014-07-25 Although the world's poorest inhabited continent Africa has recently shown signs of being a source of economic growth in the coming decades with increased foreign investment notably from China and huge growth in GDP from a number of African states In contrast to the heaving weight of books focusing on business opportunities in Asia Eastern Europe and Latin America Africa has been poorly served by academic publishing This compendium of scholarship offers cutting edge knowledge relating to business in Africa The objectives of this collection include To shed new light on the socio cultural and historical underpinnings of business practice in Africa and their implications for promoting entrepreneurship and business behaviour in the region To consider the important constraints on business activities in Africa and the emerging best practice for redressing their real and potential impacts To facilitate a better understanding of contemporary business practice in Africa through the application of relevant theories and models including emergent ones The Routledge Companion to Business in Africa is a comprehensive reference resource that provides the perfect platform for embarking on research and study into Africa from the business perspective

Research on Market Development Strategy in Africa. A Case Study of Nestle Nigeria PLC Alice Enama, 2017-09-04 Master's Thesis from the year 2017 in the subject Business economics Market research grade 1 5 language English abstract Due to the harsh situation that exists in Africa such as diseases social uprising ethnic war serious unemployment and with its 54 countries with different growth rates infrastructure trade agreement tax regulations different consumer patterns culture and level of technological it appears difficult to conduct a profitable business there Companies wanting to survive and succeed in such challenging environment need to build their core competitive and develop their own unique development strategy The company's strategy is vital for all companies deciding the sustainable development of the enterprise Based on a case study of Nestle Company in Nigeria this paper focuses on the development strategy of the African market development strategy for the African research First of all on the basis of the research background and significance the external development environment of the Company in Nigeria has been studied through the applied management theory of strategic management marketing management economics the PESTEL analysis method and the Porter's five forces model From the internal resources and ability of Nestle Nigeria Plc this paper expounds the internal conditions of the company Afterwards the opportunities threats advantages and disadvantages of the company will be explored via a SWOT analysis At the end the factors of Nestle's success in Africa will be studied in depth its key success in Nigeria explained and some strategies for the development of other companies in Africa enumerated in order to provide some guidance and valuable suggestions for those companies Women and Missions Lucia P.

Towne, 1934 Sustainable Development in Africa Walter Leal Filho, Rudi Pretorius, Luiza Olim de Sousa, 2021-07-09 This book serves the purpose of documenting and promoting African experiences on sustainable development which encompasses both formal and non formal education Sustainable development is very important to Africa but there is a paucity of publication which documents and promotes experiences from African countries Due to their complexity the interrelations between social economic and political factors related to sustainable development especially at universities need to be better understood There is also a real need to showcase successful examples of how African institutions are handling their sustainability challenges It is against this background that this book has been produced It is a truly interdisciplinary publication useful to scholars social movements practitioners and members of governmental agencies and private companies undertaking research and or executing projects focusing on sustainability from across Africa As African nations strive to pursue the UN Sustainable Development Goals it is imperative to cater for the information needs seen across the continent and foster the dissemination of experiences and case studies which may support both on going and future efforts The scope of the book is deliberately kept wide and we are looking for contributions across the spectrum of sustainable development from business and economics to arts and fashion administration environment languages and media studies Critical management studies in South Africa, 2021-11-30 This book shows how Critical Management Studies CMS scholarship is starting to develop a character of its own in South Africa It attests to CMS slowly gaining momentum and acquiring an identity of its own amongst South African scholars However management studies in South Africa is dominated by capitalist ideology and positivist methodology Although Interpretive scholarship has gained some momentum it still falls within the parameters of mainstream capitalist thinking Scholarship outside the domain of capitalist thinking such as critical scholarship remains sorely underexplored Being entrenched in the positivist tradition is arguably a major Achilles Heel for the progression of management as a field of inquiry CMS presents a vehicle for alternative epistemologies to be heard in the management discourse With its focus on power imbalances struggles for emancipation from oppression and distrust of capitalism CMS provides the peripheral point of view with a voice CMS presents a space where scholars can engage with

South African realities surrounding political cultural social and historical contexts and issues in management This book is promoting CMS to the scholarly community to show that there are exciting possibilities being offered by a different approach to management scholarship This book also forms part of a larger project of growing CMS in South Africa and is a collection of original works by academics actively working in CMS following various methodological approaches which can be categorised into two broad methodological categories namely conceptual work and empirical work following an Interpretive approach

Africa in Contemporary Perspective Manuh, Takyiwa, Sutherland-Addy, Esi, 2014-05-08 An important feature of Ghanaian tertiary education is the foundational African Studies Programme which was initiated in the early 1960s Unfortunately hardly any readers exist which bring together a body of knowledge on the themes issues and debates which inform and animate research and teaching in African Studies particularly on the African continent This becomes even more important when we consider the need for knowledge on Africa that is not Eurocentric or sensationalised but driven from internal understandings of life and prospects in Africa Dominant representations and perceptions of Africa usually depict a continent in crisis Rather than buying into external representations of Africa with its lacks and aspirations for Western modernities we insist that African scholars in particular should be in the forefront of promoting understanding of the plurilingual overlapping and dense reality of life and developments on the continent to produce relevant and usable knowledge Continuing and renewed interest in Africa's resources including the land mass economy minerals visual arts and performance cultures as well as bio medical knowledge and products by old and new geopolitical players obliges African scholars to transcend disciplinary boundaries and to work with each other to advance knowledge and uses of those resources in the interests of Africa's people

Sketches and Studies in South Africa William John Knox-Little, 1899 Neuroscience in Africa Nilesh B. Patel, Vivienne A. Russell, Nouria Lakhdar-Ghazal, 2019-06-28 This Research Topic covers some of the latest research on brain and behavior in health and disease in Africa With its untapped resources and unique situations Neuroscience in Africa has the potential to contribute to a better understanding of human brain function both in health and disease The diverse African fauna display a range of specializations in brain structure function relationships as a result of adaptations to the environment Exploration of these may lead to insights into coping strategies which could be extrapolated to humans Africa's unique flora is being investigated for anti inflammatory antinociceptive antioxidant antiepileptogenic and neuroprotective properties to determine its potential for use in the treatment of human brain disorders There is also research on neurodegenerative and infectious diseases not only common to the global world but also neglected tropical diseases and conditions which provide unique avenues of investigations in basic and translational neuroscience on highly debilitating disorders and on the effects of pathogens and environmental toxins     Women's Health in Africa Chimaraoke Izugbara, Eleanor Covan, Elizabeth Fugate-Whitlock, 2017-10-02 This edited book includes new policy relevant research on women s health issues in Africa Scholars explore critical topics from different disciplinary traditions using a variety of research methodologies and data sources The contributors include African scholars with in depth knowledge of their home contexts who can furnish nuanced interpretations of local health issues and trends international researchers who bring vigorous comparative viewpoints emerging scholars adding to scientific knowledge and more established researchers with a deep global knowledge of women s health issues The range of women s health issues is vast including the HIV epidemic and its impacts domestic violence the persistence of homebirths and abortion In addition the book investigates emerging health concerns such as CVDs and cancers Readers will learn that while old health issues have persisted and assumed new dimensions newer concerns have materialized and are gaining momentum The inability of health systems to tackle these issues complicates matters in Africa creating a sense of desperation that can only be successfully confronted through strong political will and strategic planning grounded in further research This book was originally published as several special issues of Health Care for Women International

Maternal Health Services Utilization in Sub-Saharan Africa, vol I Tafadzwa Dzinamarira, Grant Murewanhema, Mambo Claude Muvunyi, 2025-11-13 Maternal health is a global priority and significant progress has been made in reducing maternal mortality rates in recent decades However disparities persist with Sub Saharan Africa and South Asia accounting for the majority of maternal deaths worldwide Maternal health services are essential for reducing maternal mortality and improving maternal outcomes However a number of factors including individual household community and health system factors can affect whether or not women use these services In resource limited settings a number of factors can affect whether or not women use maternal health services These factors include individual characteristics such as age education level income employment status and marital status household factors such as income number of children and decision making power community factors such as distance to health facilities quality of care cost of services and attitudes towards maternal health and health system factors such as availability of skilled health workers essential drugs and supplies and emergency obstetric care     Social and Physical Ecologies for Child Resilience: Wisdom from Asia and Africa Haibin Li, Guanglun Michael Mu, Linda Theron, 2023-11-16 Since Emmy Werner and her team discovered on the Hawaiian island of Kauai the invincible children who fared well despite exposure to significant household risks there has been proliferating research on child resilience as a positive response to adverse conditions The past five decades have seen significant advancements in and diverse approaches to understanding challenges facilitative factors and positive outcomes in the resilience process that involve children. Despite existing and continuously emerging modelings and framings there appears a common understanding that child resilience unfolds through the interactions between individuals and the environments surrounding them. This Research Topic therefore takes an ecological approach to child resilience. While ecologies constitute social spaces that nurture child resilience they can also refer to the physical environments surrounding children. There has been robust empirical evidence suggesting resilience is a shared capacity of the individual and the social ecology e.g. families, schools and communities and more recently of the individual and the physical ecology e.g. the built or natural environment.

The Voice of Africa Leo Frobenius, 1913    Mission Studies, 1901    West African Studies

Mary Henrietta Kingsley, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1899 edition. Excerpt: human race he strives to save be black white or yellow Nothing as the noble records of missions will show you. Therefore I repeat that West Africa matters to no party in the English State so much as it matters to the mercantile. With no other party are true English interests so closely bound up. West Africa probably will never be a pleasant place wherein to spend the winter months a holiday ground that will serve to recuperate the jaded energies of our poets and painters like the Alps or Italy probably likewise it will never be a place where we can ship our overflow population and for the same reason its unhealthiness it will be of no use to us as a military academy for troops are none the better for soaking in malaria and operating against ill armed antagonists. But West Africa is of immense use to us as a feeding ground for our manufacturing classes. It could be of equal value to England as a healthy colony but in a reverse way for it could supply the wealth which would enable them to remain in England in place of leaving it if it were properly managed with this definite end in view. It is idle to imagine that it can be properly managed unless commercial experts are represented in the Government which controls its administration as is not the case at present. It is no case of abusing the men who at present strive to do their best with it. They do not set themselves up as knowing much about trade and they constantly demonstrate that they do not. Armed with absolutely no definite policy subsisting on official and non XLI FONS ET ORIGO MALI 311 expert trade opinion they drift along with some nebulous sort of notion in their heads about elevating the African in the plane of civilisation. Now of course there exists
