Monkey Beach:

Monkey Beach Eden Robinson, 2011-10-05 Monkey Beach creates a vivid contemporary landscape that draws the reader deep into a traditional world a hidden universe of premonition pain and power Thomas King Tragedy strikes a Native community when the Hill family's handsome seventeen year old son Jimmy mysteriously vanishes at sea Left behind to cope during the search and rescue effort is his sister Lisamarie a wayward teenager with a dark secret She sets off alone in search of Jimmy through the Douglas Channel and heads for Monkey Beach a shore famed for its sasquatch sightings Infused by turns with darkness and humour Monkey Beach is a spellbinding voyage into the long cool shadows of B C's Coast Mountains blending teen culture Haisla lore nature spirits and human tenderness into a multi layered story of loss and redemption

This Elusive Land Melody Hessing, Rebecca Raglan, Catriona Sandilands, 2005 This Elusive Land provides an introduction to the literature about women and the environment in Canada It looks at the ways in which women integrate the social and biophysical settings of their lives and features a range of contexts in which gender mediates inspires and informs a sense of belonging to and in this land Drawing from geographical historical and cultural perspectives the volume reveals the significance of women's experiences in various landscapes Jacket , Unsettled Remains Cynthia Sugars, Gerry Turcotte, 2009-08-04 Unsettled Remains Canadian Literature and the Postcolonial Gothic examines how Canadian writers have combined a postcolonial awareness with gothic metaphors of monstrosity and haunting in their response to Canadian history The essays gathered here range from treatments of early postcolonial gothic expression in Canadian literature to attempts to define a Canadian postcolonial gothic mode Many of these texts wrestle with Canada's colonial past and with the voices and histories that were repressed in the push for national consolidation but emerge now as uncanny reminders of that contentious history The haunting effect can be unsettling and enabling at the same time In recent years many Canadian authors have turned to the gothic to challenge dominant literary political and social narratives In Canadian literature the postcolonial gothic has been put to multiple uses above all to figure experiences of ambivalence that have emerged from a colonial context and persisted into the present As these essays demonstrate formulations of a Canadian postcolonial gothic differ radically from one another depending on the social and cultural positioning of who is positing it Given the preponderance in colonial discourse of accounts that demonize otherness it is not surprising that many minority writers have avoided gothic metaphors In recent years however minority authors have shown an interest in the gothic signalling an emerging critical discourse This spectral turn sees minority writers reversing long standing characterizations of their identity as monstrous or invisible in order to show their connections to and disconnection from stories of the nation Canadian Cultural Exchange Lucien Pelletier, Norman Cheadle, 2007-07-23 The essays in Canadian Cultural Exchange changes culturels au Canada provide a nuanced view of Canadian transcultural experience Rather than considering Canada as a bicultural dichotomy of colonizer colonized this book examines a field of many cultures and the creative interactions among them This study discusses from various perspectives Canadian cultural space as being in process of continual translation of both the other and oneself Les articles réunis dans Canadian Cultural Exchange changes culturels au Canada donnent de l'expérience transculturelle canadienne une image nuancée Plutôt que dans les termes d'une dichotomie biculturelle entre colonisateur et colonisé le Canada y est vu comme champ où plusieurs cultures interagissent de manière créative Cette étude présente sous de multiples aspects le processus continu de traduction d'autrui et de soi-même auquel l'espace culturel canadien sert de théâtre

Monkey Beach, 2005 Five hundred miles north of Vancouver is Kitamaat an Indian reservation in the homeland of the Haisla people Growing up a tough wild tomboy swimming fighting and fishing in a remote village where the land slips into the green ocean on the edge of the world Lisamarie has always been different Visited by ghosts and shapeshifters tormented by premonitions she can't escape the sense that something terrible is waiting for her She recounts her enchanted yet scarred life as she journeys by speedboat up the frigid waters of the Douglas Channel She is searching for her brother dead by drowning and in her own way running as fast as she can toward danger Circling her brother's tragic death are the remarkable characters that make up her family Lisamarie's parents struggling to join their Haisla heritage with Western ways Uncle Mick a Native rights activist and devoted Elvis fan and the headstrong Ma-ma-o-o Haisla for grandmother a guardian of tradition BOOK JACKET

Gothic Metaphysics Jodey Castricano, 2021-11-15 We live in the time of the Anthropocene which calls for a paradigm shift in our relation to this planet One of the themes of this book is to call attention to the shift This book is a challenge to Literary Gothic and Cultural Studies The case for rethinking approaches to gothic fiction is built on an extended critique of Freudian assumptions and antinomies of the occult associated with mechanism materialism and classical physics a critique informed by Jung and an engaging re-evaluation of mystical animist and alchemical modes of thought linked to quantum physics new materialism along with curiously but effectively Derridean deconstruction and cryptonymy Readers will benefit from the depth and breadth of the research in this book that draws upon philosophical anthropological psychoanalytic and scientific thought to engage with a literary genre in a way that changes how we think about Gothic Studies

Challenging Addiction in Canadian Literature and Classrooms Cara Fabre, 2016-11-14 In the richly interdisciplinary study Challenging Addiction in Canadian Literature and Classrooms Cara Fabre argues that popular culture in its many forms contributes to common assumptions about the causes and personal and social implications of addiction Recent fictional depictions of addiction significantly refute the idea that addiction is caused by poor individual choices or solely by disease through the connections the authors draw between substance use and poverty colonialism and gender-based violence With particular interest in the pervasive myth of the Drunken Indian Fabre asserts that these novels reimagine addiction as social suffering rather than individual pathology or moral failure Fabre builds on the growing body of humanities research that brings literature into active engagement with other fields of study including biomedical and cognitive behavioural models of addiction medical and health policies of harm reduction and the practices of Alcoholics

Anonymous The book further engages with critical pedagogical strategies to teach critical awareness of stereotypes of addiction and to encourage the potential of literary analysis as a form of social activism REVIEW OF MONKEY BEACH.,2003 Australia ,2000 Pantai Acheh Forest Reserve Lai Keng Chan,2003 Reports to the General Assembly of Illinois at Its ...
