The book offers a diverse set of ideas as to what is relevant today and what will be relevant tomorrow for emerging architectural practices of the digital age Industrial Architecture, 1958 Prefabrication and New Building Technique, 1955 University

Unlimited Graeme Davison, Kate Murphy, 2012-05-01 From its beginnings Monash has been a university in a hurry. Born on the suburban fringe of Melbourne, it reached outwards rather than gazing inwards. Over its five decades it embraced the challenges of the age of Sputnik, became a hotbed of student radicalism, then took an equally radical turn towards market capitalism to become Australia's largest and most international university, with branches in Italy, Malaysia and South Africa. Its movers and shakers included visionary vice chancellor Louis Matheson, biologist and stirrer Jock Marshall, Australia's third woman professor Maureen Brunt, historian Ian Turner, student politicians Albert Langer and Peter Costello, writers Don Watson and David Williamson, IVF pioneer Carl Wood, philosopher Peter Singer, broadcaster Jon Faine, buccaneering vice chancellor Mal Logan and his ill-fated successor David Robinson. The Monash story shows how universities have transformed Australia since the 1960s. Based on extensive interviews with staff and students and heavily illustrated, this is an engaging and candid portrait of a great Australian institution Journal of the Royal Institute of British Architects Royal Institute of British Architects, 1923 Irish Builder and Engineer, 1923 Rivington's Notes on Building Construction Walter Noble Twelvetrees, 1915 The Architect and Contract Reporter, 1918 Akten des VII.
