Despina A. Stylianou,Maria L. Blanton,Eric J. Knuth,2010-09-23 A Co Publication of Routledge for the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics NCTM In recent years there has been increased interest in the nature and role of proof in mathematics education with many mathematics educators advocating that proof should be a central part of the mathematics education of students at all grade levels This important new collection provides that much needed forum for mathematics educators to articulate a connected K 16 story of proof Such a story includes understanding how the forms of proof including the nature of argumentation and justification as well as what counts as proof evolve chronologically and cognitively and how curricula and instruction can support the development of students understanding of proof Collectively these essays inform educators and researchers at different grade levels about the teaching and learning of proof at each level and thus help advance the design of further empirical and theoretical work in this area By building and extending on existing research and by allowing a variety of voices from the field to be heard Teaching and Learning Proof Across the Grades not only highlights the main ideas that have recently emerged on proof research but also defines an agenda for future study     Minding the Gap Nancy

Hoffman,Joel Vargas,Andrea Venezia,2007 Minding the Gap argues that in today s highly competitive global economy all young people need a postsecondary education Yet only one in ten students from the lowest economic quintile in the United States currently earns a postsecondary credential This timely and instructive book from Jobs for the Future explores policies and practices that would quickly enable a larger number of low income and first generation college students to earn postsecondary degrees In doing so Minding the Gap calls for a system that thoroughly integrates secondary and postsecondary education a system in which a college degree is the goal for all students Minding the Gap is an invaluable resource for policymakers and practitioners interested in eliminating the gap between secondary and postsecondary education It focuses on those factors that must be addressed if the gap is to be eliminated the lack of coordination between secondary and college curricula dramatically different approaches to funding for public schools and higher education and the lack of coordinated data systems spanning the educational continuum from kindergarten through college This is a mustread for all those interested in increasing the number of American college graduates Freeman A Hrabowski III President University of Maryland Baltimore County This comprehensive collection offers a bracing examination of the anachronistic divide that separates K 12 schooling and higher education to the detriment of both It explains how this state of affairs came about why it's a problem and what can be done about it The contributors provide concrete and concise guidance on implementation promising models policy data systems and financial aid This is an important book for educators and reformers serious about reinventing high school and tearing down the barriers to college access Frederick M Hess Director of Education Policy Studies American Enterprise Institute In today's economy a college education is a must for every citizen Minding the Gap shares innovative strategies for improving the delivery system of college so it is affordable and attainable for every child in America Mike Easley Governor of North Carolina Minding the Gap highlights the importance of raising the bar for high school and postsecondary education in the United States Most important it acknowledges that we must do a better job of reaching out to underserved and low income communities to raise the educational level of their students and to provide them with the critical skills needed for the future global workforce Charles B Reed Chancellor California State University Edited by Nancy Hoffman Joel Vargas Andrea Venezia and Marc S Miller
