Encyclopedia of the Age of Imperialism, 1800-1914 Carl C. Hodge, 2007-11-30

In 1800 Europeans governed about one third of the world's land surface by the start of World War I in 1914 Europeans had imposed some form of political or economic ascendancy on over 80 percent of the globe. The basic structure of global and European politics in the twentieth century was fashioned in the previous century out of the clash of competing imperial interests and the effects both beneficial and harmful of the imperial powers on the societies they dominated. This encyclopedia offers current detailed information on the major world powers and their global empires as well as on the people, events, ideas, and movements both European and non-European that shaped the Age of Imperialism

Engels, Manchester, and the Working Class Steven Marcus, 2015-09-08 Friedrich Engels' first major work The Condition of the Working Class in England in 1844 has long been considered a social, political, and economic classic. The first book of its kind to study the phenomenon of urbanism and the problems of the modern city, Engels' text contains many of the ideas he was later to develop in collaboration with Karl Marx. In this book, Steven Marcus, author of the highly acclaimed The Other Victorians, applies himself to the study of Engels' book and the conditions that combined to produce it. Marcus studies the city of Manchester, center of the first Industrial Revolution, between 1835 and 1850, when the city and its inhabitants were experiencing the first great crisis of the newly emerging industrial capitalism. He also examines Engels himself, son of a wealthy German textile manufacturer who was sent to Manchester to complete his business education in the English cotton mills. Touching upon several disciplines, including the history of socialism, urban sociology, Marxist thought, and the history and theory of the Industrial Revolution, Engels' Manchester and the Working Class offers a fascinating study of nineteenth-century English literature and cultural life.

Rethinking the French Revolution George C. Comninel, 1987 Historians generally and Marxists in particular have presented the revolution of 1789 as a bourgeois revolution, one which marked the ascendancy of the bourgeois as a class, the defeat of a feudal aristocracy, and the triumph of capitalism. Recent revisionist accounts, however, have raised convincing arguments against the idea of the bourgeois class revolution and the model on which it is based. In this provocative study, George Comninel surveys existing interpretations of the French Revolution and the methodological issues these raise for historians He argues that the weaknesses of Marxist scholarship originate in Marx's own method which has led historians to fall back on abstract conceptions of the transition from feudalism to capitalism Comninel reasserts the principles of historical materialism that found their mature expression in Das Kapital and outlines an interpretation which concludes that while the revolution unified the nation and centralized the French state it did not create a capitalist society
