Metaphorical Eye:

Perception and Metaphor Qin Xiugui,Tie Yi,2021-07-28 Cognitive linguists believe that metaphors are prevalent in human thought while metaphorical structures are reflected at the linguistic level Therefore analysing extensive language data can aid in revealing the metaphorical mappings of embodied experience with the senses of vision hearing smell taste touch and temperature This volume seeks to discover the similarities and differences between the metaphorical systems of the English and Chinese languages Adopting a comparative view the authors examine the semantic extensions of perception words in English and Chinese in order to reveal the metaphorical scope of each sense and the metaphorical system behind it They argue that the metaphorical systems of the senses not only help us understand and use conventionalised metaphorical expressions but also allow us to create novel expressions The findings also unveil how abstract concepts are constructed via cognitive mechanisms such as image schema and metaphor This title is a useful reference for scholars and students who are interested in cognitive linguistics comparative linguistics and the philosophy of language

Lawrence     The Law Multiple Irene van Oorschot, 2021-03-04 In the field of socio legal studies or law and society scholarship it is rare to find empirically rich and conceptually sophisticated understandings of actual legal practice This book in contrast connects the conceptual and the empirical the abstract and the concrete and in doing so shows the law to be an irreducibly social material and temporal practice Drawing on cutting edge work in the social study of knowledge it grapples with conceptual and methodological questions central to the field how and where judgment empirically takes place how and where facts are made and how researchers might study these local and concrete ways of judging and knowing Drawing on an ethnographic study of how narratives and documents particularly case files operate within legal practices this book's unique and innovative approach consists of rearticulating the traditional boundaries separating judgment from knowledge urging us to rethink the way truths are made within law Handbook of Semiotics Winfried Nöth, 1990-09-22 History and Classics of Modern Semiotics Sign and Meaning Semiotics Code and the Semiotic Field Language and Language Based Codes From Structuralism to Text Semiotics Schools and Major Figures Text Semiotics The Field Nonverbal Communication Aesthetics and Visual Communication Simile and Metaphor in Greek Poetry from Homer to Aeschylus Arthur Leslie Keith, 1914

Writing Design Grace Lees-Maffei, 2013-09-12 How do we learn about the objects that surround us As well as gathering sensory information by viewing and using objects we also learn about objects through the written and spoken word from shop labels to friends recommendations and from magazines to patents But even as design commentators have become increasingly preoccupied with issues of mediation the intersection of design and language remains under explored Writing Design provides a unique examination of what is at stake when we convert the material properties of designed goods into verbal or textual description Issues discussed include the role of text in informing design consumption designing with and through language and the challenges and opportunities raised by design without language Bringing together a wide range of scholars and practitioners Writing Design reveals the difficulties ethics and politics of writing about design The Metaphorical Language Applied to God in the Old Testament.
