Marrying Up:

Marriage and Marriageability Chigusa Yamaura,2020-07-15 How do the Japanese men and Chinese women who participate in cross border matchmaking individuals whose only interaction is often just one brief meeting come to see one another as potential marriage partners Motivated by this question Chigusa Yamaura traces the practices of Sino Japanese matchmaking from transnational marriage agencies in Tokyo to branch offices and language schools in China from initial meetings to marriage the visa application processes and beyond to marital life in Japan Engaging issues of colonial history local norms and the very ability to conceive of another or oneself as marriageable Marriage and Marriageability rethinks cross border marriage not only as a form of gendered migration but also as a set of practices that constructs marriageable partners and imaginable marriages Yamaura shows that instead of desiring different others these transnational marital relations are based on the tactical deployment of socially and historically created conceptions of proximity between Japan and northeast China Far from seeking to escape local practices participants in these marriages actively seek to avoid transgressing local norms By doing so on a transnational scale they paradoxically reaffirm and attempt to remain within the boundaries of local marital ideologies

Who Marries Whom? Hans-Peter

Blossfeld,A. Timm,2012-12-06 Marriage and social inequality are closely interrelated Marriage is dependent on the structure of marriage markets and marriage patterns have consequences for social inequality This book demonstrates that in most modern societies the educational system has become an increasingly important marriage market particularly for those who are highly qualified Educational expansion in general and the rising educational participation of women in particular unintentionally have increased the rate of assortative meeting and assortative mating across birth cohorts Rising educational homogamy means that social inequality is further enhanced through marriage because better and worse educated single men and women pool their economic and sociocultural advantages and disadvantages within couples In this book we study the changing role of the educational system as a marriage market in modern societies from a cross national comparative perspective Using life history data from a broad range of industrialized countries and longitudinal statistical models we analyze the process of spouse selection in the life courses of single men and women step by step The countries included in this book vary widely in important characteristics such as demographic behavior and institutional characteristics The life course approach explicitly recognizes the dynamic nature of partner decisions the importance of educational roles and institutional circumstances as young men and women move through their life paths and the cumulation of advantages and disadvantages experienced by individuals

Veil and Vow Aneeka Ayanna Henderson,2020-01-29

In Veil and Vow Aneeka Ayanna Henderson places familiar often politicized questions about the crisis of African American marriage in conversation with a rich cultural archive that includes fiction by Terry McMillan and Sister Souljah music by Anita Baker and films such as The Best Man Seeking to move beyond simple assessments of marriage as good or bad for African Americans Henderson critically examines popular and influential late twentieth and early twenty first century texts alongside legislation such as the 1996 Defense of Marriage Act and the Welfare Reform Act which masked true sources of inequality with crisis laden myths about African American family formation Using an interdisciplinary approach to highlight the influence of law politics and culture on marriage representations and practices Henderson reveals how their kinship veils and unveils the fiction in political policy as well as the complicated political stakes of fictional and cultural texts Providing a new opportunity to grapple with old questions including who can be a citizen a wife and marriageable Veil and Vow makes clear just how deeply marriage still matters in African American culture

research and over 100 revisions Ten years later they're still talking about the weather Kate Fox the social anthropologist who put the quirks and hidden conditions of the English under a microscope is back with more biting insights about the nature of Englishness This updated and revised edition of Watching the English which over the last decade has become the unofficial guidebook to the English national character features new and fresh insights on the unwritten rules and foibles of squaddies bikers horse riders and more Fox revisits a strange and fascinating culture governed by complex sets of unspoken rules and bizarre codes of behavior She demystifies the peculiar cultural rules that baffle us the rules of weather speak The ironic gnome rule The reflex apology rule The paranoid pantomime rule Class anxiety tests The roots of English self mockery and many more An international bestseller Watching the English is a biting affectionate insightful and often hilarious look at the English and their society

Work-Lifestyle Choices in the 21st Century Catherine Hakim,2000-11-02 In this book Hakim presents a new multi disciplinary theory for explaining and predicting current and future patterns of women's choice between employment and family work Preference theory is the first theory developed specifically to explain women's behaviour and choices As such it constitutes a major break from male centred theorizing to date in sociology and economics Preference theory is grounded on the substantial body of new research on women's work and fertility that has flourished within feminist scholarship It identifies five major historical changes that collectively are producing a qualitatively new scenario for women in prosperous societies in the 21st century Throughout the analysis the USA and Britain illustrate what the new scenario means for women how it alters their preferences and work lifestyles choices Hakim also reviews research evidence on contemporary developments across Europe Canada Australia Japan and the far East to develop a new theory that is genuine international in perspective
