Mes Batailles:

Inventing the Israelite Maurice Samuels, 2009-12-07 In this book Maurice Samuels brings to light little known works of literature produced from 1830 to 1870 by the first generation of Jews born as French citizens. These writers Samuels asserts used fiction as a laboratory to experiment with new forms of Jewish identity relevant to the modern world. In their stories and novels they responded to the stereotypical depictions of Jews in French culture while creatively adapting the forms and genres of the French literary tradition. They also offered innovative solutions to the central dilemmas of Jewish modernity in the French context including how to reconcile their identities as Jews with the universalizing demands of the French revolutionary tradition. While their solutions ranged from complete assimilation to a modern brand of orthodoxy these writers collectively illustrate the creativity of a community in the face of unprecedented upheaval , The Public School

Speaker Francis Warre Cornish, 1900 Sibylline Sisters Fiona Cox, 2011-09-01 The history of Virgil and his receptions is long and varied. His twentieth century career transformed his appearance as an anaemic imitator of Homer into the Father of the West speaking above all for the marginalized and exiled. At the turn of the millennium it is women writers who having been largely absent from the story of Virgil's reception are for the first time shaping a new aetas Vergiliana by drawing on his poems to speak of their own preoccupations and concerns. Through an analysis of Virgil's presence in the work of contemporary women writers from North America Joyce Carol Oates Janet Lembke Ursula Le Guin Britain Margaret Drabble A S Byatt Ruth Fainlight Mich le Roberts Carol Ann Duffy U A Fanthorpe Josephine Balmer Ireland Eavan Boland and continental Europe Christa Wolf H l ne Cixous Charlotte Delbo and Monique Wittig this book identifies a new Virgil one who speaks in female tones of the anxieties exclusions pleasures and threats of the contemporary world. While each of the female writers included in this volume draws upon her own distinct cultural heritage Cox focuses on a number of shared themes and values which emerge through their work. Through the works of these modern versions of the Sibyl Virgil speaks both of explicitly female concerns and wider cultural issues and threats that shadow modern life Theatre Complet De Alex

Dumas ,1899 Exiles, Travellers and Vagabonds ,2016-10-20 Travel writing migrant writing exile writing expatriate writing and even the fictional travelling protagonists that emerge in literary works from around the globe have historically tended to depict mobility as a masculine phenomenon. The presence of such genres in women's writing however poses a rich and unique body of work. This volume examines the texts of Francophone women who have experienced or reflected upon the experience of transnational movement. Due to the particularity of their relationship to home and the consequent impact of this on their experience of displacement the study of women's mobility opens up new questions in our understanding of the movement from place to place and in our broader understanding of colonial and postcolonial worlds. Addressing the proximities and overlaps that exist between the experiences of women exiles migrants expatriates and travellers the collected essays in this book seek to challenge the usefulness relevance or validity of such terms for conceptualising today's complex
