David Kessel, 2012-12-06 The use of porphyrins for localization and photodynamic therapy of neoplastic disease has been the topic of several international symposia reviews and books during the preceding five years The literature on this topic has continued to grow as have numbers of presentations at national and international meetings relating to photobiology chemistry and lasers In this volume it is the intention of the editor to provide both information on current research projects and detailed methodology used in such investigations A bibliography on the subjects of porphyrin localization and therapy is included The manuscripts contained in this volume are based on reports given at a Porphyrin Photosensitization Workshop which was held in Philadelphia July 6 7 1984 This Workshop was supported by NIH grant CA 36746 together with funds from the Fogarty International Center Authors were requested to update their contributions to provide a summary of progress to mid 1985 Manuscripts containing material not presented in Philadelphia are also included notably a series of articles describing current clinical and pre clinical results from China Since the Philadelphia Workshop a meeting was held in Alghero Sardinia May 1985 and additional conferences are now being planned this attests to the continued interest in photodynamic therapy involving porphyrin photo sensitization

Photodynamic Therapy of Neoplastic Disease David Kessel, 1990-05-23 This two volume text provides a summary of current studies relating to the use of photosensitizing agents in the diagnosis and therapy of cancer This interesting work describes synthesis of new sensitizers photochemical and photobiological properties of dyes currently used for photodynamic therapy plus those being examined with a view toward providing therapeutic advantages It contains results and methodology from leading experts on the use of porphyrins and other photosensitizers for detection of neoplastic disease and for photodynamic therapy of neoplastic disease The volumes focus on the major clinical and pre clinical research groups They also include an appended bibliography which lists all pertinent publications in this field This easy to understand book is written for all workers in the field of photodynamic therapy and provides an introduction to those beginning research on some aspect of tumor photosensitization

Giuliana Moreno, Roy H. Pottier, Terence G. Truscott, 2013-06-29 Radiation induces a variety of chemical processes in biological tissues This volume is a synthesis of up to the minute reviews on such photochemical and photobiological sensitized reactions with particular relevance to photomedicine The first part gives a description of experimental techniques for the study of the primary processes after radiation absorption by biological systems It is followed by chapters on singlet oxygen and photomedicine considering both phototherapy and photochemotherapy These sections also discuss the next generation of potential photosensitizing drugs
