Robinson, 2011-11-01 A distinguishing feature of recent urbanization in the ASEAN countries of Thailand Malaysia the Philippines Singapore and Indonesia is the outward extension of their mega cities Bangkok Jakarta Manila Singapore and Kuala Lumpur beyond the metropolitan borders resulting in the establishment of new towns industrial estates and housing projects in previously rural areas This process has both positive and negative effects On one side household incomes and employment opportunities are increasing but on the other the growth often causes serious problems in terms of environmental deterioration conflicting land uses and inadequate housing and service provisions Mega Urban Regions of Southeast Asia is the first comprehensive work on the subject of ASEAN mega urban regions The contributors review T G McGee's original idea of desakota zones and offer arguments both for and against this concept making a significant contribution to our understanding of the true face of ASEAN cities The book brings together authors from around the world and will be of interest to a wide audience including demographers urban planners geographers sociologists economists civil servants and development consultants

The Extended Metropolis Norton Sydney Ginsburg, Bruce Koppel, T. G. McGee, 1991-01-01 Asian urbanization is entering a new phase that differs significantly from the patterns of city growth experienced in other developing countries and in the developed world According to a recent hypothesis zones of intensive economic interaction between rural and urban activities are emerging The zones appear to be a new form of socioeconomic organization that is neither rural nor urban but preserves essential ingredients of each

Asian and Pacific Cities Ian Shirley, Carol Neill, 2013-03-12 The cities of Asia and the Pacific are at the epicentre of development in what is arguably the most populous culturally distinctive and economically powerful region in the world 16 major cities such as Tokyo Shanghai Manila Jakarta Bangkok Singapore Auckland Kuala Lumpur and Santiago located in countries as diverse as Mexico and Vietnam Samoa and India China and Australia exemplify the changing patterns of development across this vast region of the world By tracking economic and social trends the contributors to this collection reveal how a wide range of political and cultural factors have interacted over time to provide a powerful explanation for the shape and characteristics of the city today Based on a collaborative research programme and drawing on the work of local researchers this book examines the realities of city development characterised by domestic migration spatial and social fragmentation squatter settlements and gated communities economic experiments and the emergence of the Asian Tigers The collection as a whole records the way in which countries in this region have moved from
