Contraband Corridor Rebecca Berke Galemba,2017-12-26 The Mexico Guatemala border has emerged as a geopolitical hotspot of illicit flows of both goods and people Contraband Corridor seeks to understand the border from the perspective of its long term inhabitants including petty smugglers of corn clothing and coffee Challenging assumptions regarding security trade and illegality Rebecca Berke Galemba details how these residents engage in and justify extralegal practices in the context of heightened border security restricted economic opportunities and exclusionary trade policies Rather than assuming that extralegal activities necessarily threaten the state and formal economy Galemba's ethnography illustrates the complex ways that the formal informal legal and illegal economies intertwine Smuggling basic commodities across the border provides a means for borderland peasants to make a living while neoliberal economic policies decimate agricultural livelihoods Yet smuggling also exacerbates prevailing inequalities obstructs the possibility of more substantive political and economic change and provides low risk economic benefits to businesses state agents and other illicit actors often at the expense of border residents Galemba argues that securitized neoliberalism values certain economic activities and actors while excluding and criminalizing others even when the informal and illicit economy is increasingly one of the poor's only remaining options Contraband Corridor contends that security neoliberalism and illegality are interdependent in complex ways yet how they unfold depends on negotiations between diverse border actors

Dynamics and Conflicts in a Cross-Border Region Mónica Toussaint, Marisol Garzón, 2023-04-07 This volume explores several issues pertinent to the history of the cross border region between Mexico Guatemala and Belize from new explanatory approaches in order to reflect on a history and a reality that are shared by three neighbouring societies emphasizing the actors and local practices that shape cross border dynamics This analysis is contributed by eight specialists who study aspects that are fundamental to our understanding of a process involving various persons and institutions in a specific space Dynamics and Conflicts in a Cross Border Region addresses an issue of current relevance through studies that focus on the problems inhabitants of the region have faced over the years the realities of a porous border the existence of family trade and cultural ties that surpass the administrative limits negotiated by the states late in the 19th century the impact of the internal conflicts of neighbour countries in the border space experiences of exile and refuge at the border and the violence they entail the role of local authorities in managing regional problems the pending task of cross border territorial organization the efforts of local institutions to promote regional development and the presence of phenomena like contraband drug trafficking organized crime and human trafficking in an increasingly complex and challenging space This provides a way to use the region s history as a springboard for conceiving of mechanisms by which we can together face the challenges presented today to the inhabitants of the cross border region between Mexico Guatemala and Belize This book will be a valuable resource for students and scholars of Latin American history and Social History

Constructing Citizenship Catherine A. Nolan-Ferrell,2012-05-01 During the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries people living in the coffee producing region of the Sierra Madre mountains along the Pacific Coast of Mexico and Guatemala paid little attention to national borders The Mexican Revolution particularly during the 1930s reconstruction phase ruptured economic and social continuity because access to revolutionary reforms depended on claiming Mexican national identity Impoverished often indigenous rural workers on both sides of the border used shifting ideas of citizenship and cultural belonging to gain power and protect their economic and social interests With this book Catherine Nolan Ferrell builds on recent theoretical approaches to state formation and transnationalism to explore the ways that governments elites and marginalized laborers claimed and contested national borders By investigating how various groups along the Mexico Guatemala border negotiated nationality Constructing Citizenship offers insights into the complex development of transnational communities the links between identity and citizenship and the challenges of integrating disparate groups into a cohesive nation Entwined with a labor history of rural workers Nolan Ferrell also shows how labor struggles were a way for poor Mexicans and migrant Guatemalans to assert claims to national political power and social inclusion Combining oral histories with documentary research from local regional and national archives to provide a complete picture of how rural laborers along Mexico's southern border experienced the years before during and after the Mexican Revolution this book will appeal not only to Mexicanists but also to scholars interested in transnational identity border studies social justice and labor history
