Michael Schumacher Driven To Extremes:

Michael Schumacher James Allen, 2000 Michael Schumacher has established himself as the outstanding Grand Prix driver of the 1990s He has dominated the sport like no other driver since Fangio in the 1950s By the start of the 1997 season experts and onlookers alike regarded him as the best around untouchable on his day able to win races against drivers in superior machinery able to master changing conditions while the others get confused He demonstrated the rare blend of exceptional ability and nerve that defines a champion in any sport He seemed to be on the brink of winning the World Championship Then in a split second at Jerez everything changed In an incident which was to be replayed and analysed time and again throughout the world's media Schumacher's Ferrari collided with Williams putting arch rival Villeneuve out of the race Schumacher shrugged off what he called a mistake The press thought otherwise By the next day he was cast as a villain in the eyes of the world Under pressure to act the FIA punished Schumacher severely He became the first man in the history of the sport to be removed from the championship results for unsportsmanlike driving At the start of the 1998 season Schumacher found himself playing the role of outcast Armed with a more competitive Ferrari and with a passionate tea behind him was it still possible for him to confirm his unique talent to win races and possibly to win the Championship outright Backed with the full co operation of Schumacher and his staff ITV pits commentator James Allen will give the full inside story of Ferrari's 1998 season a year that could well see the redemption of Michael Schumacher

The History and Politics of Motor Racing Damion Sturm, Stephen Wagg, David L. Andrews, 2023-06-09 This book explores the history and politics of motor racing one of the most popular and lucrative elements in the international sport industry Written by a group of international scholars and motor racing specialists it discusses the sport's origins the relationship of motor racing to nation building and modernity noting its links to fascism and dictatorship the links between motor racing and the automobile industry motor racing and the politics both of gender and of race motor racing the media and postmodernity and motor racing the spatial and globalization This book speaks to scholars in history politics sport studies the sociology of sport sport management and cultural studies along with the many lay readers who are interested in the relationship between motor sport and society

Donald Campbell David Tremayne, 2011-09-30 Generations are familiar with the haunting black and white television footage of Donald Campbell somersaulting to his death in his famous Bluebird boat on Coniston Water in January 1967 It has become an iconic image of the decade His towering achievements and the drama of his passing are thus part of the national psyche But what of the man himself The son of the legendary Sir Malcolm Campbell who was famous for being the ultimate record breaker of the inter war years he broke the land speed record nine times and the water speed record four times with his Bluebird cars and boats Donald Campbell was born to speed He was outgoing and flamboyant yet carefully orchestrated the image he presented to the world Some saw him as a playboy adventurer others such as the radio producer on the twenty first anniversary of his death as a reckless daredevil with a death wish He was known to take solace in extra marital dalliances and was obsessed with spiritualism And in his final years battered by a 360 mph accident while attempting the land record on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah and his prolonged and anti climactic subsequent effort on the treacherous Lake Eyre in Australia Campbell appeared a haggard and often frightened man He had become trapped on his record breaker s treadmill as he continually sought to prove himself to his illustrious father in whose long shadow he felt forever trapped DONALD CAMPBELL THE MAN BEHIND THE MASK paints a fascinating portrait of an intense complex superstitious yet abnormally brave man who was driven not only by the desire to prove that he was worthy of the mantle of his father but also by his fervent and unswerving desire to keep Britain at the forefront of international speed endeavour This book generates a unique insight into how his desperate fear of failure finally lured him into taking one risk too many

Media, Masculinities, and the Machine Dan Fleming,Damion Sturm,2011-04-28 Media Masculinities and the Machine identifies a distinctive phenomenon in today s media culture the contemporary male fantasy of suiting up and pushing technology to its limits The authors deconstruct this fantasy using two in depth studies from American British and global media the social imagining of hi tech in the long running Transformers franchise and global Formula One motorsport with links to numerous other areas of contemporary culture By drawing on non representational theory and the latest theories of affect while employing the method of autoethnography to explore what boys and men want and say the book offers a timely contribution to our understanding of contemporary cultural attachments The book provides informative accounts of two instances united by their apparent gender focus and by their interest in ways of imagining high tech Tracking their theme through TV cinema toys magazines merchandising and the culture of the gadget the authors raise important questions about mediated masculinities today and propose a new theoretical framework for uncovering what is going on Great Athletes ,2010 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2001 Michael Schumacher Christopher Hilton,1994 The author of this book a motorsport writer looks at Michael Schumacher who in 1994 has risen from relative obscurity to become the dominant force in Formula 1 The Macmillan Book of Social Science Quotations David L.
