Modernity and the Construction of Sacred Space Aaron French, Katharina Waldner, 2024-07-01 This volume focuses on the connection between modern design and architectural practices and the construction of sacred spaces Not only language and ritual but space place and architecture play a significant role in constructing special or religious spaces However this concept of a constructed sacred space remains undertheorized in religious studies and the history of art and architecture in general This volume therefore revisits the question of a modern sacred space from an interdisciplinary perspective focusing on religion space and architecture during the emergence of the modern period and up until contemporary times Revisiting the ways in which modern architects and artists have endeavored to create sacred spaces and buildings for the modern world will address the underlying questions of how religious ideas especially those related to esotericism and to alternative religiosities have transformed the way sacred spaces are conceptualized today

Law, Registration, and the State Jess Smith, 2023-07-28 This book provides an original and compelling analysis of registration as a dynamic process which makes and unmakes legal identities Critical legal and socio legal scholarship tends to assume that registration is a textually mediated act of statecraft which governs through the technology of writing Taking a different approach this book develops movement as socio legal method to illustrate the legal social and bureaucratic layers of movement which unfold in everyday engagements with the law The book presents empirical and theoretical analysis of historical contemporary and future oriented places of registration a community hub a city of pilgrimage and the General Register Office Drawing from diverse perspectives across anthropology geography sociology architecture and mobility studies the book argues for an understanding of registration as evolving socially constructed and shaped by spatial imaginaries which are materialised in its architecture This mobile understanding of registration expands conceptual discussions of legal materiality whilst opening up possibilities for legal identities unconstrained by the assumed desirability of stability or endurance This interdisciplinary book will appeal primarily to a sociolegal critical legal and legal geography readership but it will also be of interest to those in other disciplines concerned with materiality movement and statecraft

The Taraweeh Prayer. Creation of Sacred Space in the Perspective of Performance Studies Mirjam Steiner, 2025-03-11 Seminar paper from the year 2021 in the subject Theology Islamic theology grade 6 0 University of Fribourg Philosophische Fakultät course Ritual Theory and Practice Seminar language English abstract One may enter a church to attend a sermon rearrange finally the living room to feel more at home or step onto the podium in the auditorium to lecture a class In all these examples the influence of space on the emotion one senses could not be stressed enough When I observed the taraweeh prayer an important ritual during Ramadan the significance but even more the flexibility of space astonished me The prayer should normally take place in a mosque but due to the COVID 19 restrictions in Albania it was not allowed to attend large gatherings Hence the prayer happened to be in the home of a befriended person where all participants would meet to conduct it Originally my research plan was to focus on the prayer and its atmosphere but the transition of an ordinary living room to a sacred prayer space struck me What kind of transition has happened there Why did I feel that there was a change and how did the others perceive these moments This seminar paper serves perfectly as an overview of how ritual can be understood in the perspective of performance studies On the one hand it explains different understandings of ritual on the other hand it focuses on a specific approach of performance studies Performance theory of Richard Schechner The present paper shows how performance theory offers a variety of possibilities to analyze ritual The field research should lead to a better understanding of sacred space and allow an analysis of its diverse aspects due to the observed ritual and the individual perception of the interviewed participant
