End-User Computing, Development, and Software Engineering: New Challenges Dwivedi, Ashish, Clarke, Steve, 2012-02-29 This book explores the implementation of organizational and end user computing initiatives and provides foundational research to further the understanding of this discipline and its related fields Provided by publisher

Management and Information Technology: New Challenges prof. Joanna Palisziewicz, 2020 This fifteen chapter monograph edited by Joanna Palisziewicz is an interesting read that focuses on light to moderate topics in the areas of management and information technology. The topics are from cryptocurrencies and their online exchanges in Poland to using the concept of blockchain in agribusiness using virtual reality creating knowledge and innovation in family businesses the importance of social media in education risk analysis security and forensic science and effective communication in enterprises. The monograph continues with topics of CRM ERP implementation in SMEs in Poland big data agri food industry and innovative solution for knowledge management the impact of digital technologies on competences digitization in agriculture and the impact of merchandising on consumer behaviour. Although there is little connection in terms of reading structure from one chapter to the next each chapter uniquely stands alone to offer insights into the topic it examines in a very simple and understandable manner.

Management Control Through Business Forms Ladson Butler, O. R. Johnson, 1930    Teaching Public Policy Peter J. Bergerson, 1991-01-30 The curriculum of public policy education is currently undergoing an introspective examination as academics and practitioners develop programs to reflect the dramatic theoretical informational technological and managerial changes of the 1980s. This book is a response to some of these creative and innovative instructional techniques. The text covers policy theory research and a number of substantive topics including financial management budgeting ethics computers and experiential learning. The essays are grouped in seven separate areas each emphasizing successful teaching strategies. Organizational theory is the first area to be treated with discussions of public administration education and democratic values a reflection in action model and the role of ethics in public policy education. Research skills are covered through surveys of quantitative analysis skills of MPA students and bridging the gap between methods courses and real research studies. Surveys of information resource management and an active reactive model of policy evaluation comprise the section on program evaluation and management while financial core curriculum courses are considered in chapters on in class budget simulations and fiscal management in the public sector A computers and communications section focuses on computer literacy and the skills an MPA program should teach and two contributions analyze comparative public administration Finally a concluding section explores the contemporary issues of the use of practitioners in the classroom experiential learning and the political science perspective on public administration This volume will be a useful resource for courses in public administration public policy and political science as well as a welcome addition to public and academic libraries
