Politics and Communication in America Robert E. Denton (Jr.),Jim A. Kuypers,2008      Political Consultants and Campaigns Jason Johnson,2018-04-19 Political Consultants and Campaigns One Day to Sell examines the differences between how political science theory suggests campaigns should be run and how political consultants actually run campaigns In the wake of consultants who effortlessly move from campaigners to policymakers the dearth of knowledge about the attitudes beliefs and strategies of the consultants themselves is still a glaring absence in the analysis of American politics How can we purport to know what is happening in American political campaigns if we don't know what is on the minds of the men and women who run them This book provides a clearer understanding of modern day political campaigns by revealing what is on the minds of the people who run them With original data from consultants campaign managers and professional campaign schools author Jason Johnson examines consultant behavior on message formation policy positioning candidate recruitment Internet strategy and negative advertising and compares these practices to existing political science theory This groundbreaking research makes Political Consultants and Campaigns One Day to Sell a must have resource for all students of American politics campaign managers or anyone interested in how political campaigns in America are run      Political communication ,      Fundamentals of Media Effects Jennings Bryant,Susan Thompson,2002 Fundamentals of Media Effects is a readable scholarly text geared to undergraduate students in the media effects course The book is divided into three sections Section 1 Overview and History provides historical evidence for media effects and for societal concern about media effects Section 2 Theory and Concepts includes the concepts and theories that serve as the basis for different types of media effects research The final section Section 3 Key Areas of Research delves into the specific areas of inquiry      Public

Documents ,1999      American Politics, Media and Elections ,2005      ICA Newsletter International Communication Association,1999      Meet the Candidate Videos John Parmelee,2003-03-30 Parmelee shows how presidential primary campaign videocassettes serve many functions for candidates on their road to the White House These videocassettes which include images and issues often based on polling data and focus groups are sent out before the primaries to battleground states to establish an initial image of the candidate A variety of methods are used to explore the videocassettes of the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates Gary Bauer Bill Bradley George W Bush Steve Forbes Al Gore and John McCain who released presidential primary meet the candidate videos during the 2000 race Frame analysis quantitative content analysis and in depth interviews with the producers of these videos were employed to provide answers to Parmelee s main research question What function do candidate videos serve in presidential primary campaigns Findings indicate that these videos which can run from 5 to 20 minutes in length serve a clear educational function to explain the candidates stand on key policy issues The videos which are mailed to voters journalists and potential donors and shown to Democratic and GOP faithful at party functions also serve as fundraisers surrogate speakers and inoculators But while the videos share some common functions each campaign targets its video to a slightly different audience based on the campaign s overall strategy Of particular interest to scholars students and other researchers involved with American presidential politics and political communications      Choice ,2000      Media, Politics, and Government Hoyt H. Parmelee,2001      The Electoral Challenge: Theory Meets Practice Stephen C Craig,2006 If most elections are decided by forces beyond anyones immediate control whether its national economic conditions or voters longstanding partisan attachments do campaigns really matter Scholars and political consultants will give you different answers While scholars insist that consultants operate by the seat of their pants promoting the latest folk wisdom about which strategies and tactics work not knowing one way or the other until its too late consultants claim that the academics tell us what they already know or if not their studies are simply wrong So who is right Stephen Craig takes up the challenge and brings together the voices and ideas of both groups in this engaging and innovative volume He aims to determine what we know and do not know based on empirical rather than anecdotal evidence about the factors that determine election outcomes While the backdrop is academic the focus is practical why do some candidates win and others lose on election day Each chapter contains an essay from a top scholar in the field followed in most cases by a response from the political consultants so students actually interact with this discourse By including the views and experiences of both groups the result is a dialogue from very different yet complementary perspectives on how campaigns matter      Media Debates Everette E.

Dennis, John Calhoun Merrill, 2002 These renowned scholars present 19 issues specific to the interplay of media and society and debate them in this text After a thoughtful introduction to the issue in that chapter each author takes a pro or con position to debate the contested topic Dennis and Merrill provide a context for students to think critically about key media topics and their impact on society by providing a balanced range of timeless and current issues in this unique format
