Middle East 10th:

Middle East Sources Ian Richard Netton, 2013-11-19 Middle East Sources provides an invaluable resource for the busy librarian student or scholar with Middle Eastern interests. It aims to guide readers to the major collections of books and other materials on the subject in the UK and Ireland as well as to some lesser known but nonetheless interesting collections in smaller libraries. Entries are fully up to date and include information on addresses including telephone, fax and e-mail details, brief descriptions of collections held along with references to relevant catalogue material and other directories. The guide also highlights the extent of collections and gives help in accessing The MELCOM Area Specialisation Scheme. MASS designation of the collections is also included where relevant.

A History of Muslims, Christians, and Jews in the Middle East Heather J. Sharkey, 2017-04-03 Across centuries the Islamic Middle East hosted large populations of Christians and Jews in addition to Muslims. Today this diversity is mostly absent. In this book Heather J. Sharkey examines the history that Muslims, Christians, and Jews once shared against the shifting backdrop of state policies. Focusing on the Ottoman Middle East before World War I, Sharkey offers a vivid and lively analysis of everyday social contacts, dress, music, food, bathing, and more as they brought people together or pushed them apart. Historically, Islamic traditions of statecraft and law, which the Ottoman Empire maintained and adapted, treated Christians and Jews as protected subordinates to Muslims while prescribing limits to social mixing. Sharkey shows how amid the pivotal changes of the modern era, efforts to simultaneously preserve and dismantle these hierarchies heightened tensions along religious lines and set the stage for the twentieth-century Middle East.

Missionary Candidate Training Paul Sungro Lee, 2008-11-15 Today the world mission has unprecedentedly become a task of every national church and believers on earth. Missionaries are being sent out from every nation to every nation. Strategists have previously noticed that Africa along with East Asia would emerge as the key fulcrum for world missions in the 21st Century. 2010 Lausanne Congress held in South Africa proved that to be true. Along this path, Evangelical Alliance for Preacher Training Commission (EAPTC) opened their missions training schools in Kenya and South Korea using this book as their training text. It was through the efforts of those missionary trainees that their work expanded into over 200 new church plants in 11 countries today. This book was put together mainly for Two Thirds World missionary candidates who often find themselves limited with sound missions training opportunities around while the lessons in this manual apply to all who are mission interested. Going as a missionary or sending a missionary without proper training is quite reckless. The principles of cross-cultural mission presented in 11 chapters of this book are field-tested nuggets that can certainly equip anyone aspiring for missionary work. The training has been scientifically validated, effective through research, and used in Africa, Asia, Americas, and Oceania. This manual is also available in French, Spanish, Portuguese, and Amharic.

Mangrove Ecosystems: A Global Biogeographic Perspective Victor H. Rivera-Monroy, Shing Yip Lee, Erik Kristensen, Robert R. Twilley, 2017-11-03 This book presents a comprehensive overview and analysis of mangrove ecological processes, structure, and function at the local biogeographic and global scales and how these properties interact to provide key ecosystem services to society The analysis is based on an international collaborative effort that focuses on regions and countries holding the largest mangrove resources and encompasses the major biogeographic and socio economic settings of mangrove distribution Given the economic and ecological importance of mangrove wetlands at the global scale the chapters aim to integrate ecological and socio economic perspectives on mangrove function and management using a system level hierarchical analysis framework The book explores the nexus between mangrove ecology and the capacity for ecosystem services with an emphasis on thresholds multiple stressors and local conditions that determine this capacity The interdisciplinary approach and illustrative study cases included in the book will provide valuable resources in data information and knowledge about the current status of one of the most productive coastal ecosystem in the world

Landscapes in the Eastern Mediterranean between the Future and the Past Ioannis N. Vogiatzakis, Theano S. Terkenli, Maria Gabriella Trovato, Nizar Abu-Jaber, 2020-05-15

Landscapes have long been viewed as multifunctional integrating ecological economic sociocultural historical and aesthetic dimensions Landscape science and public awareness in Europe have been progressing in leaps and bounds The challenges involved in landscape related issues and fields however are multiple and refer to landscape stewardship and protection as well as to the development of comprehensive theoretical and methodological approaches in tandem with public sensitization and participatory governance and in coordination with appropriate top down planning and policy instruments Landscape scale approaches are fundamental to the understanding of past and present cultural evolution and are now considered to be an appropriate spatial framework for the analysis of sustainability Methods and tools of landscape analysis and intervention have also gone a long way since their early development in Europe and the United States Although significant progress has been made there remain many issues which are understudied or not investigated at all at least in a Mediterranean context This Special Issue addresses the application of landscape theory and practice in the Eastern Mediterranean and mainly but not exclusively reports on the outcomes of an international conference held in Jordan in December 2015 with the title Landscapes of Eastern Mediterranean Challenges Opportunities Prospects and Accomplishments The focus of this Special Issue landscapes of the Eastern Mediterranean region thus constitutes a timely area of research interest not only because these landscapes have so far been understudied but also as a rich site of strikingly variegated long standing multicultural human environmental interactions These interactions resting on and taking shape through millennia of continuity in tradition have been striving to adapt to technological advances while currently juggling with manifold and multilayered socioeconomic and climate environmental crises
