Middle East And Africa:

War and Conflict in the Middle East and North Africa Ariel I. Ahram, 2020-09-29 For much of the last half century the Middle East and North Africa MENA has seemed the outlier in global peace Today Iraq Libya Israel Palestine Yemen and Syria are not just countries but synonyms for prolonged and brutal wars But why is MENA so exceptionally violent More importantly can it change Exploring the causes and consequences of wars and conflicts in this troubled region Ariel Ahram helps readers answer these questions In Part I Ahram shows how MENA s conflicts evolved with the formation of its states Violence varied from civil wars and insurgencies to traditional interstate conflicts and affected some countries more frequently than others The strategies rulers employed to stay in power constrained how they recruited trained and equipped their armies Part II explores dynamics that trap the region in conflict oil dependence geopolitical interference and embedded identity cleavages The catastrophic wars of the 2010s reflect the confounding effects of these traps culminating in state collapse and intervention from the US and Russia as well as regional powers like Iran Saudi Arabia and the UAE Finally Ahram considers the possibilities of peace highlighting the disjuncture between local peacebuilding and national and internationally backed mediation War and Conflict in the Middle East and North Africa will be an essential resource for students of peace and security studies and MENA politics and anyone wanting to move beyond headlines and soundbites to understand the historical and social roots of MENA s conflicts State-Building in the Middle East and North Africa

Mohammad-Mahmoud Ould Mohamedou, 2021-10-21 Why have state building projects across the MENA region proven to be so difficult for so long Following the end of the Ottoman Empire in the early 1920s the countries of the region began a violent and divisive process of state formation But a century later state building remains inconclusive This book traces the emergence and evolution of state building across the MENA region and identifies the main factors that impeded its success the slow end of the Ottoman Empire the experience of colonialism and the rise of nationalistic and religious movements The authors reveal the ways in which the post colonial state proved itself authoritarian and formed on the model of the colonial state They also identify the nationalist and Islamist movements that competed for political leadership across the nascent systems enabling the military to establish a grip on the security apparatus and national economies Finally in the context of the Arab Spring and its conflict filled aftermath this book shows how external powers reasserted their interventionism In outlining the reasons why regional states remained hollow and devoid of legitimacy each of the contributors shows that recent conflicts and crises are deeply connected to the foundational period of one century ago Edited by Mohammad Mahmoud Ould Mohamedou the volume features contributions by stellar scholars including Faleh Abdel Jabar Lisa Anderson Bertrand Badie Fran ois Burgat Benoit Challand Ahmad Khalidi Henry Laurens Bruce Rutherford Jordi Tejel and Ghassan Salam Third Worlds Heather Deegan, 2002-11-01 Third Worlds focuses attention on the relationship between the Middle East and sub Saharan Africa examining the alternative Islamic development agenda for Africa which in part mirrors that of the the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund The grouping of the Middle East and Africa within the umbrella term Third World has masked not only the contrasts and contradictions of the two areas but also their cultural and historic similarities This study explores the contrast between Western and Islamic notions of democracy the contrast between Western International aid agencies and the Islamic Development Bank Islamic economics and the potential for reviving the more impoverished African states The Middle East and North Africa in World Politics J. C. Hurewitz, 1979-01-01
